Assessor scolded for nepotism

Township raises stay

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Raises for eight workers in the township assessor's office raised allegations of family favoritism by a trustee. Last week, members of the Town Board asked that Assessor Darlene Laub delay a yearly increase of $1,200 for six employees and a $292 yearly increase for two other employees.

LAUB SAID Wednesday, at a special session, she would not postpone the increases. The assessor has final say over how her budget is allocated.

Town Trustee Woody Moad alleged she let family ties influence her decision in drawing up the raises. Laub's sister-in-law works in her office.

"I'm seeing nepotism in the township budget where there's no cushion," he said. "You (Laub) can't view the raises fairly because you're dealing with family."

"I KNOW THERE is a lot of nepotism in the city, but when you mix this in government where there's no buffer — no council in between to regulate things — it's not right."

Laub said she thinks her reasons for awarding the raises are legitimate.

"I highly resent what you are implying," she said to Moad. "I've never treated them (her family) any differently than anyone else."

"EVERY PERSON in my office must receive training before they are hired. My people not only can do their own job, but can cross over and do other people's jobs. You cannot compare my employees to clerical workers."

In addition to their training, Laub said the workers are asked to travel out-of-town three times a year and are encouraged to further their education.

The pay raises also include retroactive pay for the employees from last March.

TRUSTEE SHARON PERJAK said she thinks the action is a "slap in the face to the aldermen."

"How can you justify giving the same pay raise to employees who have been in your office three, four or five months, as to the ones who have been in your office three, four or five years?" she asked. "Doesn't the amount of experience a worker has in your office mean anything?"

The workers who have been working full-time in the assessor's office for only a few months had previously worked for the office part-time, Laub said.

"THE WAY I'm handling the raises is not any different than it has been before."

Leak puts hole in fix-it theory

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The new theory for repairing city sewer breaks has a hole in it.

Insituform, a highly touted liner method used to repair an 8-inch sewer line at Stearns and Boyle avenues, is leaking.

"BASICALLY WHAT happened is that the subcontractors (for Insituform) cut a hole for the lateral in the wrong place," said Ed Schulze, acting city engineer. "It's definitely Insituform's fault."

Groundwater is seeping into the line, he said. "This gives Insituform a bloody nose," Schulze said. "But it doesn't change my opinion of the product."

INSITUFORM HAS NOT worked out all the kinks with installing the liner in pipes with lateral connections, he said.

Schulze said that after the liner is installed the workers go back and look for "dimples" in the pipe, which hints there is a lateral connection there.

He said the leaking pipe is plastic, which is new for city sewers.

DETECTING the difference between the plastic liner and the plastic pipe would be difficult, Schulze said.

"There would be no way of feeling the difference between the liner and the pipe until it is too late," he said. Schulze said the leak poses no immediate danger to the pipe or the property surrounding the leak.

INSITUFORM WORKERS are bringing in a television camera to get a better look at the break, he said.

"This is a minor setback," Schulze said. "I'm still high on the pipe — we just had a little error."

Gary Penrod, marketing representative for Insituform of Missouri, said the sewer line problem occurring at Stearns and Boyle has never happened before.

"OBVIOUSLY WE made a mistake," he said. "I wouldn't say anybody is a wannabe engineer."

Penrod said his company will ask that clay pipes be used on repairs that include lateral connections, in the future.

"The drill will stop when it hits a clay pipe, but it'll keep going if it hits a plastic pipe," he said. "It's something we're going to have to work out."

Seeds for help planted in Tree of Lights drive

By VALERIE EVENDEN

"The Salvation Army does many worthwhile things for the community and it is very complimentary to be asked to serve," Don W. Kassing, president of Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College, said Tuesday.

Kassing will serve as chairman of the Salvation Army's 1985 Tree of Lights appeal in the Quad-City area.

THE FUND-RAISING drive will be launched at a community luncheon at noon Tuesday, Nov. 26, at the Salvation Army Corps Center, 3007 E. 23rd St.

The public is invited to attend the kickoff luncheon and reservations are being accepted at 451-7857. Captain Norman S. Marshall III, Salvation Army divisional youth secretary, will be guest speaker at the event.

SUPPORTING MEMBERS of the 1985 campaign committee include Richard Suess, advisory board chairman, and Richard West, James R. Schmiedake and Glenn Alenroth.

"I am impressed with the Salvation Army board and it is a pleasure for me to deal with its members," Kassing said.

"There are some fine people on the board and their interest in this community is sincere. We will work hard to reach the campaign goal."

This year's goal will be announced at the kickoff luncheon.

THE GENEROSITY of area residents enabled the Salvation Army to surpass its 1984 goal of $40,000. A total of 4,259 persons were assisted through the drive.

"We are eager to begin our Christmas drive," Captain Stephen L. Kiger, the Granite City SA officer, said this week.

"We will need the support of all our neighbors and friends in the Quad-City area to make this Christmas memorable for those in need," he added.

LAST CHRISTMAS, the Salvation Army gave out 951 food orders to VENICE — Wilbert Glasper was re-elected president of the Board of Education at its annual reorganization meeting Tuesday night.

Kirk M. Gardner Sr. was elected board secretary, replacing Alvester Salmond, and George W. Wade Jr. was renamed to the post of school treasurer.

THE ACTIONS followed canvassing of the Nov. 5 school election. Vote tallies listed the four incumbents winning four-year terms and receiving the following totals, including results from three precincts: David M. Levy, 174, Alvester Salmond, 167, Kirk M. Gardner, 153, and George W. Wade Jr., 128.

Gregory W. Kater received 67 votes and Joe Willie Roberts had five write-in votes, the canvass showed.

ROBERTS FILED petitions as a candidate but was deemed ineligible to appear on the ballot upon filing his statement of economic interest with Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles. She ruled it was too late to meet the statutory deadline.

Glasper congratulated the re-elected incumbents and was joined by the four in reading the oath of office during the swearing-in ceremony. In regular session, the board voted to retain Michael Bilbrey of the Hopkins and Bilbrey law firm as Venice School District attorney, and designated First National Bank in Madison as the district's banking depository.

GLASPER, 35, has served on the Venice Board of Education continuously since first being appointed in November 1976.

Elected to a four-year term in November 1983, Glasper previously won three-year terms in April 1977 and April 1980.

He served as board secretary and school treasurer and advanced to the presidency in early 1983 upon the retirement of Jack Tolliver, a longtime board member and president.

A 1968 GRADUATE of Madison High School, Glasper attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for three years before being accepted as an electrician apprentice.

He became a journeyman electrician in 1972 and a member of International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local 309 of Collinsville.

The board president and his wife, Gussie, reside at 517 Fillmore Ave., Venice, with their children, Tisha and Wilbert Jr.

GRANITE CITY — E. Dewey Melton, 46, was elected District 9 School Board president Tuesday by a unanimous vote. Melton replaces Kelly Hogan as president of the board. He will serve as president until Nov. 4, 1986.

"I WANT TO GIVE the public a good school system," Melton said. "My goal is to help Dr. (Max) Redmond pursue excellence in education. I plan on working in cooperation with the school administration."

Melton was first elected to the board in 1977. He was defeated in an election in 1980 and was reappointed in 1981 following the resignation of Steve Saltich. Melton then was elected again in 1983.

Saltich resigned to become a member of the City Council.

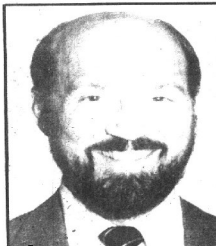

A GRADUATE of Granite City High School, Melton has four children enrolled in Granite City schools.

Newly elected board members, Joanne Travis-Terrell and Gerald McKechnan, were seated Tuesday following completion of an election canvass. Ruth Lahr was defeated and Thomas Mofsky retired from the board.

Incumbent Monroe Worthen was the leading vote-getter in the Nov. 5 election, receiving 3,708 votes. McKechnan was second with 3,556 votes. Terrell third with 3,460 and incumbent Alan Cridder fourth with 3,114.

McKECHAN, a former teacher and coach with District 9, was elected board secretary through Nov. 4, 1986, with an annual stipend of $360. McKechnan replaced Cridder as secretary.

Worthen was elected school treasurer. He will assume those duties Nov. 26 after the board obtains new check-signing plates. The board unanimously voted to abolish two committees. They were the budget and finance committee and the personnel committee. Cridder, a former member of the personnel committee, said the group had not met during the past year.

APPOINTMENTS to nine board committees were made following seating of new members.

Terrell was appointed delegate to the Special Education Board and the Southwest Division of the Illinois Association of School Boards. She is one of three on the Policy Committee.

Worthen was named chairman of the Policy Committee. McKechnan also was named to that group.

Terrell was named alternate to the Citizens Advisory Committee and the committee for negotiations between the district and certified (instructional) employees.

WORTHEN AND MELTON were named to the committee for negotiations with certified employees.

Hogan was named delegate to the Illinois Large District Council and the Illinois Delegation for Public Education.

Cridder was placed on the committee.

DEPOT SHELVEING. A work crew from the Hill and Tinker Air Force bases erects a new storage facility for Phantom jet fighter tooling at the St. Louis Area Support Center in Granite City. Air Force crews chose the local installation due to its proximity to McDonnell Douglas Aircraft in north St. Louis County.

Parts for jets to be stored here

While the McDonnell Douglas Phantom jet fighter is no longer in production, it's still being flown by military pilots around the world. When spare parts are needed for these aircraft in the future, the call will come in to the Army's St. Louis Area Support Center in Granite City.

The Center is providing 126,000 square feet of storage space to the Air Force to stock jigs, fixtures and other tooling used in the manufacture of the F-4 jet. This tooling will be used by small businesses in the future to produce Phantom spare parts under competitive contracts with the Air Force.

"IT'S A PIONEER program for the Air Force," said Thomas Clegg, chief of a special supply team sent to the Granite City facility from Hill Air Force Base in Utah. He said the tooling will be kept in "dead stock," with only one or two people to maintain inventory paperwork. No production will be accomplished on the site.

The Support Center was chosen, Clegg said, because it's near McDonnell Douglas Aircraft and because storage facilities here have been properly maintained. Clegg's team arrived in mid-September and has spent the time since erecting large storage shelving and painting inventory control aisles on the floor of one of the Center's big warehouses. Also participating were personnel from Tinker Air Force Base.

LT Col. Robert A. Fortin, the Center's commander, noted that facilities provided to the team

"should save the Air Force substantial money" over having to ship the materiel elsewhere.

"WE'VE TRIED TO PROVIDE total support for what they are doing," he said.

late October but plans to return once the move of materiel begins from McDonnell Douglas in St. Louis County to Granite City.

"We enjoyed the area and found the people to be very friendly," Clegg said. "We hate to go."

K mart to sell gift certificates

Beginning this fall, K mart stores across the country will offer gift certificates to customers and local businesses and charitable groups. K mart Chairman Bernard M. Fauber announced this week.

The gift certificates in $5, $10 and $25 increments can be purchased at all of K mart's more than 2,100 stores. Also, customers and businesses can order gift certificates by mail from Gift Certificate Sales at K mart Corporation International Headquarters, Troy, Mich., in denominations up to $100.

K mart has also initiated a campaign to promote use of certificates for incentive programs and corporate gift giving.

"The certificates can be used in almost any town in America to buy thousands of name brands at competitive prices," Fauber said.

K mart is the second largest retailer in the world with 1984 sales of $21 billion.

Magic name prompts backroom maneuvering in governor race

Madison County's Democratic Central Committee overwhelmingly endorsed Attorney General Neil Hartigan for the nomination to oppose Gov. James Thompson, Republican, in 1986. Now, with Hartigan withdrawing Nov. 11 in favor of Adlai Stevenson, Democrats here are expected to be able to swing their support to Stevenson with no difficulty; both candidates are well liked.

Hartigan's plummet from the front-runner's position was precipitous after the retired U.S. senator with the magic name decided to try one more time to retire the governor. Thompson won by an eyelash over Stevenson in 1982 after enjoying a wide lead in pre-election public opinion polls. Now, the former federal prosecutor is seeking an unprecedented fourth term.

The defeat rankled Stevenson, who had never lost before. The loss by 5,074 votes out of more than 3.6 million cast, a margin of 0.139 percent, hurt because he felt there had been enough tallying errors to justify a full recount; his request was denied by the Illinois Supreme Court.

It also irritated the 1948-52 governor's son because he knew the 1982 outcome might have been different had he campaigned a bit more aggressively. He promises to go "all out" in the pre-November 1986 general election campaign now that he is assured of victory in the March primary.

The first Adlai Ewing Stevenson was vice president of the United States from 1893 to 1897. His grandson had the same name and also aspired to national office — after an active gubernatorial term in which, among other actions, he sent state troopers to permanently close two big illegal gambling casinos, the Hyde Park Club in Venice and the 200 Club in Madison.

Nominated by his party to run for the White House in both 1952 and 1956, Stevenson had the misfortune of running three times against one of the most popular presidential candidates ever, Gen. Dwight Eisenhower of World War II fame.

"Big Jim" Thompson already has been governor of this state longer than anyone in its history, which dates back to 1818. Like Eisenhower, Thompson is a Republican with an ability to attract considerable Democratic support.

But Adlai III clearly sees the incumbent as beatable. This time, unlike the 1950s when "Ike" was a hero to all, the Stevenson name may be the most popular and most easily recognized of the two names submitted to voters.

Hartigan found this out to his dismay after spending an estimated $1 million this year in his attempt to advance to Springfield's executive mansion. The 1972-76 lieutenant governor had worked tirelessly for Democrats over the years, earning many political IOUs. A Chicagoan, he escaped any big-city stigma and achieved close rapport with Downstate leaders.

His network of regional offices increased his visibility as well as expanding services to citizens, and he was generally regarded as having performed well, at least until he began feuding with Thompson's Environmental Protection Agency staff this year. But he never had the support of House Speaker Michael Madigan. And Cook County Democratic Chairman Edward Vrdolyak shifted in recent weeks from a Hartigan partisan to a neutral stance.

Stevenson, close to Chicago Mayor Harold Washington and U.S. Sen. Paul Simon, hasn't yet spent a dime but began outdistancing Hartigan by a 2-1 margin (51 percent to 26 percent) in recent preferential polls. Hartigan got the message and abruptly decided to run for another term as attorney general. Comptroller Roland Burris agreed simultaneously this week to run for the Democratic comptroller nomination instead of attorney general.

The polls, admittedly unreliable at this stage, indicate Thompson might defeat Hartigan (40-37 percent) but might lose to Stevenson (42-39).

The "smoke-filled backroom" maneuvering could succeed. It will be an admittedly strong Democratic state ticket, and bitter primary wounds will be avoided. On the other hand, even those who don't give high marks to Thompson as a governor agree his campaigning skills are unparalleled. He has accomplished a lot in nine years, and has made the public aware of that fact.

It could be a real "shoot-out at the O.K. Corral." We wouldn't bet a big sum either way on the outcome.

Patronage, politics and applause

Patronage, politics and applause.

Family members get elected, then hire family members.

Friends hire friends, and friends of friends.

A lot of people are made happy. And some, members of fading regimes, are left growling.

The game is funded by the taxpayer. And maybe that's what the taxpayer deserves.

He holds ultimate power over the political system. He sees what occurs year after year. But he is slow to use his vote, if he uses it at all.

Those who go along, get along. That seems to be the philosophy behind those who ignore the obvious.

But politics is usually gray rather than black and white. The public rarely hears information available to insiders. What it usually hears are those things which are, or are portrayed to be, great problems within an administration.

Conflict makes good headlines, even when relatively minor. Sometimes a trivial problem when there are two sides, can be overstated by one side or the other.

The significance of the conflict is often not the conflict itself, but who is on what side.

Harold Mayfield's resignation is a case in point. After 25 years with the civil defense in Granite City, he said he resigned his directorship at the request of a member of Mayor Von Dee Cruse's administration.

Of course, that's news. The mayor and a former administration member are on opposing sides of an issue. Some say Cruse will make the civil defense directorship a patronage position.

Well, what if he does?

He did the same with other jobs. When Cruse leaves office, the next mayor will likely do the same.

Patronage is nothing new, especially in this area. And certainly the civil defense job does not rank with some of the more questionable patronage hirings with which Madison County voters are familiar.

True, Mayfield has survived several administrations as a civil defense member. But as long as the directorship appointment is left to the mayor, there's no point in moaning about the mayor doing what the people gave him a right to do.

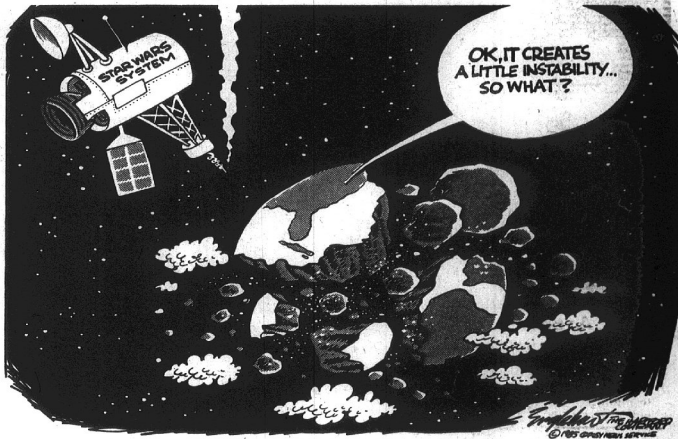

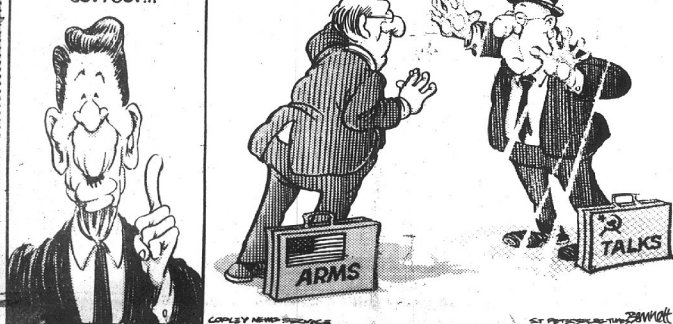

No one has said he likes losing Mayfield, a respected civic leader. But Cruse did what he thinks is right and he's heard the growling.

The best that can now be done now is to appeal to Cruse to replace Mayfield with someone who at least has the former director's knowledge. Anything less would be short-changing the public.

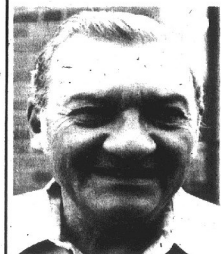

As Cruse realizes, to be a leader there's no other course than to live with one's decisions.

It's not all just patronage, politics and applause.

Our theory of the star wars defense serving as an invisible shield is already proving correct...

Teachers want binding grievance decisions

To the Editor:

The teachers of Madison School District 12 simply want to keep the grievance procedure that has been in their contracts for 16 years — a procedure perfectly acceptable to the school board so long as it ended in advisory arbitration only.

However, the board and superintendent are violently opposed to such a procedure ending in binding arbitration.

If, as is the case, such arbitration is done by a neutral third party, what do they fear? Surely they intend to deal fairly with their employees.

If by chance an arbitrator found that they had not been fair, surely they are big enough people to admit their mistake.

It is my understanding that some parents are concerned that binding arbitration would lead to numerous lawsuits brought by the teachers and that these lawsuits would cost the district thousands of dollars.

Let me assure them that binding arbitration eliminates the need for expensive lawsuits.

The recent lawsuit brought against the district by the women coaches could have been avoided had the coaches had recourse to a grievance procedure terminating in binding arbitration. This would have saved the district money.

During the course of negotiations, one board member was heard to ask, "Can't we simply trust each other?" Of course, we can.

The board can trust the teachers not to flood the board office with petty grievances — one grievance to arbitration in 16 years can hardly be called a flood — and the teachers can trust the board to deal fairly and compassionately with them.

Let's just have a grievance procedure to help the teachers feel a bit more secure.

I'm sure all the concerned parents and citizens of Madison will agree that the important thing is getting everyone back in school.

Voters backing improved Illinois libraries

To the Editor:

In the Nov. 5 election, local library referenda were overwhelmingly successful.

Voters of 20 public libraries in Illinois chose to either increase their tax levy support for their library, convert their local library to a library district, levy to support the sale of bonds for building programs, transfer territory to another library, or annex new territory to their library district. Only seven such referenda failed.

There are now two new public libraries in Illinois, in Sherrard and in Seaton, bringing the total number of public libraries in this state to 610. This represents approximately 8 percent of all public libraries in the United States.

In addition, four public libraries had successful questions on the ballot providing for building programs. They will use those funds to satisfy local matching requirements for eligibility for state ("Build Illinois") and federal grants.

In all, the score for the library referenda represents a batting average of 741.

Patriotic display of flags on Veterans Day

To the Editor:

Madison Avenue in the City of Madison really looked great on Veterans Day with the recent addition of new American flags placed on every street standard on the avenue and also along Third Street up to the City Hall.

Madison Amvets Post 204 funded the purchase of "old glory" and they are to be congratulated for this patriotic array of flags on Veterans Day and other patriotic days coming up.

The 19th Street overpass in Granite City was splendid looking with its display of American flags to brighten the area and to show off "old glory" to passing motorists and the community in general.

Also, on the trains coming and going to St. Louis that day could take notice of the bedecked overpass.

Through the generosity of the Moose Lodge in Granite City, for the second time they funded this patriotic event to show our colors. The first time the flags were displayed, they were stolen and broken from the light standards.

In view of the theft, it was difficult for me to ask for additional funds.

STEVE CONKOVICH
2802 Dogwood Drive

Veterans Day was well remembered for our veterans this Nov. 11. The flags flew in their honor, both living and dead veterans, in all the communities in the area to show we care.

It is a token of remembrance for their actions to keep America and the world free, now and forever.

To the Editor:

In response to your Nov. 6 newspaper comment section, containing Mike Peters' cartoon, I disagree with it as a taxpayer, a law-abiding citizen, a retired U.S. Navy chief petty officer and a life member of the National Rifle Association.

I take offense with your paper and the cartoon about the NRA dollars. (The cartoon showed a policeman and included the phrase, "Your NRA dollars at work.")

Climaco may challenge Price

By JAMES BARRETT

FAIRVIEW HEIGHTS—Dr. Cesar Climaco indicated last week he may challenge U.S. Rep. Melvin Price, D-East St. Louis, for the incumbent's 21st District seat next year.

Price, 61, has represented the metro-east area in Congress for more than 42 years.

Climaco, who has been active in community affairs, said he wasn't certain if he would run, if he would oppose Price in the March 18 primary or run as an independent.

He notified his patients in September that he was leaving the metro-east area because of unreasonable malpractice insurance rates and death threats.

Climaco sent letters to his patients telling them he would close his office September 30 and move to a warmer climate.

Although, he has closed his medical practice, Climaco and his family have remained in Fairview Heights and his current plans are "...up for grabs."

Fairview Heights police two weeks ago solved one of Climaco's problems by arresting two men in connections with several death threats he had received since July.

Police arrested Edward A. Waelterman, 25, 3128 Yale, Collinsville, and Mark L. Maronde, 23, 6013 Old Collinsville Road, Fairview Heights and both were charged with one count each of disorderly conduct.

Waelterman was released on $50 bond and Maronde was released on $50 recognizance bond.

Climaco had received approximately seven harassing phone calls between July and October, some threatening his life and the lives of his family if he did not leave town.

"We received information from an individual who told us who might be involved in this," said Lt. Dale Fredeking, administrative officer.

Detectives interviewed the suspects and were able to break the case quickly, Fredeking said.

The calls were made as a result of a dispute Maronde had with Climaco, police said.

Although he is not currently practicing medicine, Climaco said he has not decided yet if he will run.

If he does decide to enter the primary next March, he must file a petition with at least 600 signatures of registered voters in St. Clair County to the County Clerk's office.

The filing deadline is between December 9 and 16.

One important consideration which will weigh heavily in his decision whether to run will be if he can bring up "...the important issues."

One of the most pressing public issues today is what this society is going to do about AIDS, or Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome, Climaco said.

This disease, which is almost always fatal, attacks the body's immune system and renders the victim vulnerable to all sorts of infections and viruses.

Climaco said that there are currently about one million persons afflicted with AIDS across the country.

been in the past," she said. "This is and has been the policy of this office."

Casmer Skubish, trustee, said Laub's action will have a bearing on the negotiations the city is currently having with 225 workers.

"We cannot afford to give our workers $100 across the board," he said. "We're asking that you rescind the measure."

THE TOWNSHIP and the city should not be viewed as the same entity, Laub said. The pay increases are being awarded without raising taxes.

"The budget for salaries this year is $40 less than it was last year," she said.

By cutting out part-time workers, Laub said, she is able to afford giving the full-time workers a raise.

The raises will be earned, she said. "HAPPY PEOPLE are productive people," she said.

CANNABIS CHARGE FILED
Police charged Daniel W. Pritchard, 20, of 2024 Cardinal Ave. with possession of cannabis Nov. 6 after he and two other men were found walking behind CMC Stereo. Police searched them and alleged finding a plastic bag of cigarettes.

State will hire more veterans

Illinois will implement a new program to hire veterans for state employment beginning Nov. 16.

The new plan expands the prior hiring policy under which veterans were given first opportunity to interview for job vacancies and higher priority in hiring over equally qualified candidates.

Keith Huston, director of the Illinois Vietnam Veterans Leadership Program, said it is hoped to reduce the high unemployment among Illinois veterans.

THE HIRING POLICY, developed with the cooperation of the Illinois Vietnam Veterans Leadership Program and the departments of Central Management Services (CMS) and Veterans Affairs, will apply to all coded, non-exempt job vacancies that are filled under the state's open competitive selection process.

It includes employment at all departments, agencies, boards and commissions under the jurisdiction of the governor. The policy is authorized by the Personnel Code, which provides for a preference in the hiring of those veterans who served the U.S. during times of hostilities.

CMS will institute a system to monitor the program and will be responsible for quarterly reports to review the progress and results.

PROCEDURES to be implemented for position titles that have an anticipated hiring rate of 10 or more persons per year include:

•Where veterans constitute at least 10 percent of those eligible for hiring, 50 percent or more of those hired must be veterans.

•Where veterans constitute from 4 percent to 9 percent of the eligible candidates for hiring, 25 percent or more of those hired must be veterans.

•Where veterans constitute from 1 to 3 percent of those eligible for hiring, 15 percent or more of those hired must be veterans.

For position titles that have an anticipated hiring rate of nine or less persons annually, 20 percent or more of those hired will be veterans, regardless of how many veterans are eligible.

Edgar launches campaign before throng of employees

A razzle-dazzle red, white and blue Ronald Reagan-style rally in the rotunda of the Illinois Statehouse — packed by thousands of employees of the Illinois Secretary of State's office — kicked off the reelection campaign of their boss, Jim Edgar, last week. Although some prominent Republicans, including Gov. James Thompson, had tried to persuade Edgar to take on U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon, D-Illinois, next year, he opted instead to run a second time for secretary of state. Edgar was first appointed to the office by Gov. James Thompson in early 1981 to replace Dixon and then was elected in 1982 by a quarter-million vote margin over his Democratic opponent, then state Treasurer Jerry Coe.

A CAREER politician since college, Edgar, now 39, was the youngest person elected to the traditionally patronage-laden secretary of state's post in this century.

The built-in advantages of being an incumbent in the office were evident in Edgar's announcement rally. Thousands of employees "on their lunch hour" were piled three-tiers high in the rotunda and the second- and third-floor balconies.

A platform decked in red, white and blue was set up and a brass band played upbeat patriotic tunes. Edgar was even joined on the platform by a sometimes maverick Democrat, State Sen. Charles Chew, D-Chicago (who also campaigned for Gov. James Thompson in 1982).

EDGAR CITED his "tough stand on drunk driving" as his major achievement in the office. He said his goals for his next term would include continuing the battle against drunk driving, passing a mandatory insurance law, protecting consumers against auto thieves, and eradicating functional illiteracy.

He also cited bringing license plate production back to Illinois, creating jobs for disabled workers and improving service "at all our drivers facilities."

His chief Democratic challenger appears to be Chicago Alderman Joe Kottlarz, who is taking an even tougher stance against drunk drivers.

Edgar has the advantage of a huge campaign war chest, already more than $1.5 million, the most of any incumbent state officeholder.

NII earns net income of $16.9 million

National Intergroup Inc. (NII) earned net income of $16.9 million in the third quarter of 1985, or 60 cents per share of common stock after preferred dividend requirements of $3.9 million.

Strong results from the recently acquired Permian Corp. and higher earnings by NII's financial service businesses contributed to the improvement over the third quarter 1984 net loss of $14 million, or 88 cents per share.

LOW PRICES remained a problem for Granite City Steel and other National Steel plants partly owned by NII.

Third-quarter NII results included operating income of $7.7 million from Permian, an oil and gas gathering firm acquired by NII Aug. 13, $8.5 million for NII's portion of a gain on the sale of a real estate holding by First Nationwide Financial; and equity earnings from National Steel Corp.

"Earnings remain far below acceptable levels, but we are encouraged by the upward movement."

"PROGRAMS to diversify and to improve margins and cash flow are beginning to take hold," Chairman Howard M. Love, a former Granite City Steel president, said.

Although First Nationwide did not contribute to NII's cash flow, equity income rose substantially due principally to currently low interest rates. These increased the interest margin between the cost of funds and its net yield on loans and investments.

Permian, even though acquired midway through the quarter, made an important contribution to earnings and cash flow. With its predictable earnings stream, it fits NII's objective of diversification into businesses which are not capital- or labor-intensive," Love said.

OTHER BRIGHT SIGNS in the third quarter were the elimination of losses at National Steel despite severely depressed steel prices, and good results by Bull Moose Tube Co., St. Louis, and the rolling division of National Aluminum.

For the first nine months of 1985, NII's net loss totaled $13.3 million, or $1.20 per share of common stock compared to a net loss of $3.9 million or 77 cents per share in the 1984 period.

Results for 1984 were restated to reflect a charge incurred on purchase commitments and contracts for aluminum ingot by National Aluminum Corp.

NII's sales in the third quarter totaled $670 million, including $473.7 million from Permian. This compares to NII sales of $548.4 million in the third quarter of 1984.

FOR THE FIRST NINE months of 1985, sales totaled $1 billion, versus $2.1 billion in the 1984 period. The reduction in sales reflects the change to the equity method of accounting for NII's 50 percent interest in National Steel after the joint venture with Nippon Kokan on Aug. 31, 1984.

National Steel reported operating income of $7.2 million and net profit of $200,000 in the third quarter of 1985 on sales of $512.2 million, compared to operating income of $11 million and net profit of $3.1 million in the 1984 period on sales of $563.6 million.

Operating income for the quarters increased by $4.2 million and $7.5 million, respectively, due to liquidation of LIFO (last in, first out) inventories.

NII'S 50 PERCENT interest in National Steel's income for the third quarter of 1985 totaled $100,000.

National Steel's operating loss for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 1985, totaled $39.6 million and the net loss was $61.2 million, compared to an operating profit of $40.5 million and a net profit of $18.9 million for the same period a year ago.

The nine-month results increased by $4.2 million and $19.6 million, respectively, due to liquidation of LIFO inventories.

The nine months ended Sept. 30, 1984, also included gains of $3.5 million from the sale and transfer of coal reserves.

NII'S LOSS ON ITS equity interest in National Steel for the first nine months of 1985 totaled $30.6 million.

Prices remain depressed as foreign imports continue to penetrate 25 percent of the domestic market for steel.

"National's aggressive cost-reduction programs have helped to significantly offset certain of the losses on revenues and volumes. The results of these programs are evident in National Steel's return to profitability in the third quarter," Love said.

National Steel's shipments in the third quarter of 1985 of 1,053,000 tons declined one percent, compared to 1,063,000 tons in the third quarter of 1984. Year-to-date shipments have declined three percent versus the same period in 1984.

STEEL PRODUCTION in the third quarter totaled 1,210,000 tons compared to 1,069,000 tons in the third quarter last year.

Seniors may apply for utility help

November has been set aside for senior citizens and disabled persons to sign up for energy assistance, State Rep. Sam Wolf is reminding Quad-Citians.

"The Illinois Home Energy Assistance Program (IHEAP) is intended to help those unable to pay their utility bills at a time of high usage, such as the winter months," Wolf said. "Eligible persons must apply to the Illinois Department on Aging to receive the assistance."

Payments are made directly to the utility providing relief. Or, if heating costs are a part of the rent, payments will be made directly to the approved applicant.

Last year, payments to senior citizens and disabled persons averaged over $200," Wolf said. "This program really helps take the sting out of utility bills that seniors and disabled are struggling to pay."

Financial eligibility requirements are: one person in household, gross income 80 days before the application, $1,461.

Two persons, $2,203.
Three persons, $2,766.
Four persons, $3,329.
Five persons, $3,891.

Six persons, $4,453.
Seven persons, $5,016.
Eight persons, $5,578.

"Since funding for the program was tight last year, I would urge anyone interested in applying to do so early," Wolf said. "Applications may be given in person, or confined persons may call their respective agency to have a representative come to their home."

Residents of Madison County may apply at the Madison County Community Development Center, 130 Hillsboro Ave., Edwardsville 62025 or may call 692-0200, Extension 4386.

Competition among transportation urged

Joseph "Joe" Farrell, president of the American Waterways Operators Inc., has charged that "the lack of a singular vision regarding transportation policy is a thief with his hands in the pocketbook of the American consumer."

He called on the government to adopt a "new vision to equitably promote, rather than hinder, healthy competition among the various modes of transportation."

Farrell made his remarks before the Propeller Club of the United States national convention and the 1985 American Merchant Marine conference in Savannah, Ga.

His title, "Transportation: A New Vision to Replace the Sword of Damocles," refers to the ancient legend of Damocles, who lived with a sharp sword suspended by a single thread above his head.

"This sword is suspended today by the very government which should have a coherent policy to promote competition through equitable, consistent and non-discriminatory treatment toward all the transportation modes. In theory, special preference is to be given to none, likewise, no special handicaps are to be imposed. But it is not so," Farrell said.

He singled out as "fickle and lacking in cohesion" past policies that have come to "plunge the waterways industry into an ever-deepening economic depression."

He cited the 1980 grain embargo, federal tax policy that encouraged the overbuilding of barges as tax shelters, and the imposition of user taxes as three policies that have severely damaged the waterways industry.

Farrell also pointed to "unbalanced policies of the Department of Transportation as applied to all transportation modes, and the layers of committees and subcommittees in the House and Senate with jurisdiction over transportation."

"As with the various transportation factions within the department, the committees and subcommittees of Congress are split along the different carrier 'fault lines' and they, too, act in virtual isolation from one another rather than in concert — as they should if we are to have a coherent national policy."

Farrell called for reform of the decision-making processes in the executive and legislative branches.

"Proposed initiatives for one mode must account for that mode's interaction with the others. The ultimate test must be: Will this increase or, at least, maintain competition in transportation?" Farrell said. "You simply cannot make decisions about one mode in a vacuum without the probability that competition between and among the modes is not going to be disturbed to the detriment of the consumer."

GC dance studio owner Jerry Stevens, 61, dies

Mrs. Jerry E. (Green) Stevens, 61, owner and operator of the oldest dance studio in Granite City for more than 35 years, died at 10:30 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 9, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

The Jerry Green Dance Studio was located at 2400 Benton St. She operated the business continuously except for a three-year period beginning in 1967, when she became a secretary at the 20th Century Fox Film Studio in New York while her son, Al Stevens III, attended a private school in Princeton, N.J.

MRS. STEVENS attended Madison schools and Eastern Illinois University at Charleston.

Throughout her operation of the studio, her students performed at many locations in the Missouri and Illinois area as well as performing annually on the Admiral excursion boat until its Mississippi River voyages were discontinued.

In later years, her pupils performed at area hospitals and nursing homes. Many of her students participated in dance competition held in Springfield, Ill., and captured top awards and honors.

Pictures of dance contestants on the Admiral will be included in the museum board the Admiral when it is renovated and reopened as a St. Louis riverfront attraction.

SHE RETIRED from the studio in June 1984.

Her husband, Albert Stevens Jr., is known as Bob Baker on radio station WGN, where he is station manager. Her son also is an on-the-air personality, on WIL-FM.

Additional information is given in the obituary column of this issue.

Madison teachers' strike continues

By DONNA KIMBRO
Staff writer

MADISON - After a 7-hour negotiating session Wednesday night, a teacher strike that began 10 days ago is continuing.

The negotiations, the first to be held since Oct. 31, were between Madison Federation of Teachers Local 763 and administrators and board members representing School District 12.

The strike was called on Monday, Nov. 4. Agreement has not been reached on language in the grievance section of the contract.

SUPERINTENDENT of Schools John Palcheff said this morning, "Upon urging by the mediator, the board offered compromise language on the major unresolved issue. The issue is (whether) to allow an arbitrator to have binding authority over board policy or practice."

He added, "After many hours, the Board of Education offered a compromise which was rejected and the union returned to its initial position."

A paragraph in the previous working agreement between the district and the teachers that seems to be in contention states:

"A grievance shall mean a complaint that there has been a violation, misinterpretation or inequitable application of any of the provisions of this agreement, or that one or more teachers have been treated unfairly or inequitably by reason of any act or condition which is contrary to established policy or practice governing or affecting teachers."

WILLIE DENNIS, president of the teachers union, said the board negotiating team wanted the paragraph to end with "of this agreement," eliminating the remainder of the sentence.

Palcheff defended the board's stand and said the board is keeping the new state law in mind concerning the grievance language.

There are no new meeting dates scheduled for further negotiations, Palcheff said.

In a statement today, Dennis said, "The school district has had this paragraph with this definition for some time. This issue is not on the table, as far as the board is concerned, but we won't give it up."

"THE TEACHERS would be the losers."

"The only alternative I see now is to let the Illinois Education Labor Relations Board make the decision."

We want to insert binding arbitration in the grievance clause.

"The board's answer to that was that they wanted to cut the definition," Dennis concluded.

The board has taken the position that not all of the working agreement portions previously subject to advisory arbitration can be included under the part of the state law requiring binding arbitration. It says that, as a board, it cannot leave certain decisions up to anyone else, including an arbitrator.

PALCHEFF SAID a salary deduction for health insurance would normally have been taken from the teachers' paychecks this Friday. He informed the teachers that if they wanted to be covered by the insurance they would have to make the payment Friday at the board of office.

Although the November premium payment has been made, this deduction would go toward the December premium, Palcheff said.

The superintendent said, "This insurance has not been an item of disagreement but we just wanted the teachers to know when the payment is due so they would be covered if they want this while on strike."

Venice schools to mark American Education Week

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Staff writer

VENICE — Special activities designed to promote better understanding of the academic goals of students and teachers in Venice School District programs are planned during American Education Week starting Monday, Nov. 18.

An open house, Thanksgiving dinner with parents, assemblies, poster contests and room visitations will take place involving grade school and high school students in separate and combined programs.

ALL VENICE STUDENTS and staff will observe "teacher appreciation day" Nov. 18 and "dress up day" Friday, Nov. 22.

"School Color Day" with pupils, faculty and other staff members sporting red and white attire will take place Tuesday, Nov. 19.

Grade school youngsters will collect coins in special containers for the Miss Liberty renovation program. Donations will be added to the fund-raising drive for restoration of the Statue of Liberty, according to Mrs. Tina Ponce.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS will host their parents at lunch beginning at 12:25 Wednesday in the cafeteria. The parents are invited to stay for a special assembly program at 1:10 p.m. featuring Mildred Gaddis, radio personality from radio station KJMJ, 108 FM.

Parents of kindergarten through 8th grade pupils also may enjoy the open house and lunch with their children on Wednesday.

"Uncle Sam and the Mystery of the Golden Door," a play by 8th grade pupils, will be performed in the gymnasium at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday during an hour-long assembly.

SETH KIRKPATRICK, Venice Grade School principal, will welcome visiting parents and Superintendent of Schools Robert N. Vickers will address the children and guests.

Induction of new members into the Beta Club, a grade school honors club, also is planned along with presentation of the "Apple Award" to a parent and recognition of winners in the school's poster contest.

Turkey, dressing and "all the trimmings" will be served at the Wednesday luncheon.

ROOM VISITATION will take place, and lunch will be served at staggered intervals, starting with kindergarten through 3rd graders from 11:05 to 11:35; 4th through 6th graders, 11:30 to 12:05; and 7th and 8th graders from 12:05 until 12:40.

For the first time in several years, an open house for Venice High School students and parents is planned during the evening hours, scheduled from 6 to 8 Thursday, Nov. 21.

A SPECIAL PROGRAM is planned from 6 to 6:30 in the gymnasium. Parental visits to classrooms, following the students' class schedule for 10-minute sessions, also are arranged.

Refreshments will be served in the gymnasium from 7:30 to 8 p.m. Thursday, affording an opportunity for parents of high school students to meet teachers and Board of Education members.

Students in all grades and staff members are to wear their "Sunday best" on Dress Up Day, Nov. 22. "American Public Schools: Excellence" is the theme of American Education Week.

2 BURGLARIES AT MOTEL. Two residents at the Chain of Rocks Motel, Mitchell, reported their rooms were burglarized Nov. 9. John Spurgeon, Morrisonville, Ill., reported his room was missing a television set, a radar detector and assorted tools, valued at a total of $780.

James P. Bell, Coleman, Texas, reported the theft of a citizen band radio, a radar detector, a black and white TV set, a brown briefcase and a watch.

WARRANT SERVED IN GC. Michael D. Crockarell, 22, of Sherman Avenue was booked Nov. 1 on a warrant alleging failure to appear on a charge of illegally transporting alcohol. Arrested at Niedringhaus and Edison avenues, he was released on $102 cash bail.

Yule aid signups go on

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Staff writer

More than 30 people greeted Salvation Army personnel when they arrived early Tuesday morning at the Salvation Army Center, 3007 E. 23rd St.

Tuesday was the first day that local families and individuals wishing to apply for Christmas baskets and related aid could apply at the center.

Those in line outside the center were there to register for assistance and, before noon that day, a total of 153 applications had been received. The gifts helped to brighten the lives of 653 persons.

Captain Stephen Kiger, Salvation Army commander, said hours at the office for accepting basket applications will be from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Applications will continue to be received through Dec. 9, but will not be taken on the day that surplus commodities are given out at the Salvation Army Center.

THOSE SEEKING holiday assistance are required to come to the center in person, bringing with them adequate identification, she reported.

A current rent receipt and the most recent utility bill are required before an application will be completed for each family.

The person applying also must know the income of each person in the household and the ages of each individual living there.

A Public Aid green card, if the family is served by that agency, will be accepted, the coordinator said.

CHRISTMAS ASSISTANCE, which provides food baskets, clothing and Christmas gifts to needy area families, is financed through the local Tree of Lights campaign.

This year's fund-raising appeal will be launched at a kickoff luncheon at noon Tuesday, Nov. 26, at the Salvation Army Center. Persons wishing to attend may call 451-7597 for reservations.

Some unofficial sports awards

The changing of the sports seasons. As the leaves start to fall and the mercury drops, we recorders of sport start to look at what lies ahead.

But there were also some other moments. Following are some awards and honors of the just-completed fall season.

BEST GAME: Granite City's 17-12 victory over powerful Alton will have to rank as one of the key upsets of the season. Alton, after rolling to six early wins, also lost to Belleville West and saw its playoffs hopes fly south.

LARGEST DISAPPOINTMENT: Madison had a shot at its first-ever playoff bid. However, the Trojans were edged by Assumption and Cardinal Ritter on consecutive weeks and failed to qualify despite finishing at 6-2.

UNDERATED TEAM EFFORT: The winner here is the Granite City girls volleyball team. Despite losing four starters to graduation, coach Wilma Schulte guided her team to the regional championship game.

UNSUNG HERO: Warrior soccer player Dave DeRousse gets the nod. The junior back got little ink but was a consistent performer for Granite City this season. As a sophomore, DeRousse played in every Warrior game. This year he provided support in a defense which featured an all-state goalie and three all-sectional selections.

IN THE SHADOWS: Much of the success of the Granite City girls cross country team was spearheaded by Lora Wiser.

However, it should be noted that a fine supporting cast was the reason the Warriors won the SWC championship and the Madison County crown and got seconds in both the regional and sectional meets.

A tip of the hat to Lisa Wiser, Shelia Noel, Faye Patton, Kim Ames, Marianne Finn, Melody Witt and Laney Castillo and the rest of the Warriors who comprised that team.

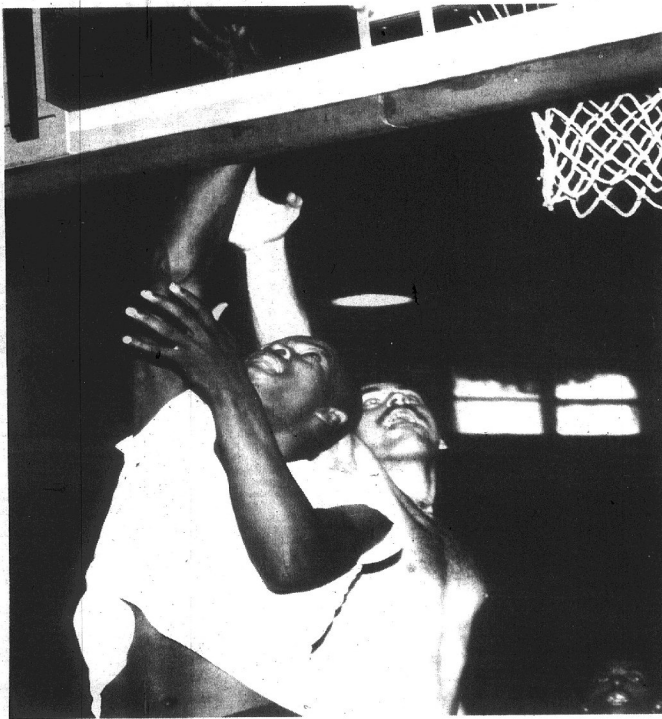

BEST COMEBACK (TEAM): The Warrior football team, which won its final three games of the year to finish at 4-4 and share second place in the Southwestern Conference.

IN THE RIGHT SPOT: Granite City's Dave Gushoff was one person who left an imprint on Collinsville during the Warriors' first win of 1985. Gushoff swiped four Kahok passes. He added another one later in the season. His five interceptions ties him for second among the Metro East leaders.

BEST PLAY: There were many, but none perhaps made more of an impact than Duane Hicks' 85-yard kickoff return for a touchdown. It was the first time Madison had touched the ball all season.

BEST SUPPORT BY FANS (DUAL ROLE): The honor goes to the Granite City parents who attended the soccer game at Belleville East Oct. 16. The parents watched the Warriors clinch the SWC championship and, at the same time, huddled around transfer radio to listen as Jack Clark's homer gave the Cardinals the NL pennant.

BIGGEST HOPE: That the teachers strike in Madison will end, and the winter sports season will be just as exciting as the one just past.

For GCC Stars '85 should be easier

By JAMES BLASINGAME

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY + Things are going to be a little easier this time around for Granite City Campus basketball coach Terry Collins.

Collins is in his second year as the GCC head man. And after last year's 5-21 season in which the Stars finished their campaign with four basketball players and a soccer goalie on the court, it's a small miracle that Collins isn't wearing a straight-jacket and bouncing off the walls in a rubber room somewhere.

The California native took over as GCC's athletic director and basketball coach in August of last year, leaving himself with only three weeks to recruit a cage squad. He put a team together, but due to academic problems, dissension, and other troubles, six players left the program.

By the midpoint of last season, Collins was down to five players, and when one of the final five decided to join the ranks of the departed, the Stars faced extinction.

But then along came Lantz. Jeff Lantz, the GCC soccer goalie, bailed out Collins and the Stars and kept the basketball program afloat. He became Granite City's fifth starter and played in the last seven games of the season.

Collins, for one, is grateful. "There are going to be a lot of good things happening this year, but whatever happens, Jeff Lantz is a part of this (program)," Collins said. "He kept our season going. He's just a great competitor."

Fortunately, Collins won't have to count on Lantz's heroics again this season. The Stars' coach had time to recruit over the past year and it appears he has made the most of it. Not only has he brought talented players to GCC, but also young men who will meet the challenge in the classroom.

"We spent a lot of time recruiting (for this season)," he said. "I had three weeks last year and we only had one player back. Obviously, that makes a difference. We've got depth, quality depth. We have players who are willing to work and that makes a big difference."

"We recruited on a basis of someone who has a measure of respectability (academically). It's pleasing, exciting + the work that they've done in the classroom. That (academic prowess) won't win us any games, but they're doing good work in class."

To build a successful program, Collins needs to surround himself with intelligent ballplayers. His coaching style demands it.

Rather than threaten or humiliate players in practice, Collins uses reason and logic to motivate his troops. While speaking with him, one gets the feeling that Collins could easily have been a philosopher instead of a basketball coach.

He looks at life's big picture and encourages his players to do so. College isn't a last-second jumper or a helicopter dunk. College is furthering your education and striving to reach your potential as a person.

"Some of my players think I'm too philosophical," Collins said. "I don't give a simple answer to their questions all the time, and they'll say, 'Coach, don't be so philosophical.'"

"But everything we do, we want to be grounded in what's true. That's the foundation of the whole program. This (basketball) is part of their education. We just try to do things based on the right principles, and I think the idea of trying to achieve your potential is important."

So where did this philosophy come from?

"I think that's just 31 years of my life," the coach said. "When you grow up in L.A. (Los Angeles), it makes an impact on you." Collins said, pointing to the poster of former UCLA coaching great John Wooden. "It's a part of my coaches, my parents, really. It's based on my experiences."

As Collins and his Stars prepare for the coming season, experience is one thing that this year's GCC squad lacks. Of the 13 players on the Stars roster, only four have any playing time at the junior college level and only two of those will be ready for

Hogan, Weeks, Davis are first team all-conference

By DAVE WHALEY

Staff writer

Three Granite City players have spots on the first-team offense of the all-Southwestern Conference football team announced this week.

Split end Jamie Hogan, placekicker Ryan Weeks and punter Steve Davis head a list of 18 Warriors who made the all-conference team. Five more Warriors were on the second team and eight were honorable mention.

Only the mighty Flyers of East St. Louis (21) had more players on the team than Granite City. Hogan, a 5-10, 160-pound junior, beat out Alton's Doug Brooks and East Side's Lawrence Moore at the split end position. Hogan caught 21 passes in the year for 460 yards (19.2 yards per catch). The 24 catches placed him third in the Metro East and the 460 yards were good for second place.

"The best thing about Jamie is he's a junior," said Warrior Coach Ron Yates. "He made a lot of catches this year a lot of people wouldn't make. He's a little small, but hopefully we can build him up. He's a three-sport man, so it's going to be a little tough to get him into the weight room."

Yates said Hogan was helped by working in tandem with his brother, Tim, who was honorable mention at quarterback. Jamie scored six touchdowns on the season, including an 80-yarder against Belleville Alhough Oct. 4.

Weeks, a 5-11, 175-pound senior, helped make Granite City's kicking game the strongest in the conference. He made 16 of 17 extra point attempts and was four of seven on field goals, including three-pointers of 45 and 47 yards. The 47-yarder against Cahokia Oct. 11 was the longest boot in the area this season.

"We knew Ryan had good range,"

Yates said. "We knew he was a strong part of our team going in. He was around all summer, and of course he comes from 'kickers row' Blue Spruce Court, where four Warrior kickers of the past few years have come from."

Yates also said Weeks' kickoffs were very good. "He got most of them inside the 10-yard line and about a third of them over the goal line," he said.

Weeks beat out East St. Louis' Tyrone Bush and Robert Alexander for first team honors. He could be headed for bigger and better things.

Yates said Ryan has been contacted by Penn State and some films of Weeks have been sent there. The Nittany Lions are currently the No. 1 college football team in the nation.

"We've also heard from Southeast Missouri," Yates said. Davis, a 5-11, 175-pound senior, kept the Warriors out of trouble often this year with his punting. He averaged 36.5 yards per kick.

"He did a real good job for us," Yates said. "The one thing Steve will have to work on is his consistency. If he can level off and get that good consistency, he can get his average up around the 38- or 40-yard range. Most of Steve's good games were in the conference."

Davis edged out Belleville East's Ed Rust, Collinsville's Tom Gilliland and Belleville West's Rick Kujawitz for the first team spot.

The Warriors had the most players on one side of the line of scrimmage, with 13 players represented on offense. Each offensive position (plus placekicker and punter) was represented.

Other Warriors on the team included Kip Simpson (center, second team and defensive end, honorable mention); Tracey McElroy (guard, second team); Steve Novich (guard, honorable mention); Joe Boyd (tackle, second team); Ben Lienemann (tackle, honorable mention); Chris Moad (tight end, honorable mention); Dave Trautman (running back, second team); Pat Keeling and Ron Owens (running backs, honorable mention); Timmy Hogan (quarterback, honorable mention); Mike Penoglia (linebacker, second team); Tom Schnefke (linebacker, honorable mention); Dave Gushoff (defensive back, second team); and Pat Griffin (defensive back, honorable mention).

Wiser ends her prep career

By KEN PERKINS

Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — He had heard rumors that a runner with bionic-like ability was enrolled at Granite City High School. South, but Dick Harmon figured it was just another tall tale.

So he cornered the freshman and told her to suit up for his cross country team.

"I knew she had run well in junior high school because people were saying this and that about her abilities, but that's all I knew," said Harmon, who was the harrier coach at the time.

"She turned out to be better than what they had said. She was very talented for a freshman, a very strong runner. She was gifted."

That was three years ago and Lora Wiser is still talented. And strong. And gifted.

She may be a bit taller and a few pounds heavier, but not much has changed. The Wiser trademarks — a head band, the ponytail, the deep concentration after a race — are still there.

Though it seems as if she's been around since the start of time, Wiser concluded her high school career last Saturday at the Illinois State Class AA Girls Championships with a 16th place finish, the second time in as many years she's finished in the top 20.

In the last two years, Wiser is arguably the winningest harrier in the state, more accurately tops in the Metro East. In 1984, she was the top area finisher at the state meet (she placed 13th) and this year was No. 2 behind East St. Louis Lincoln's Celisa Shy.

It is with cross country that Wiser's greatness and future endeavors must be measured. Her love for the sport is clear and defined and her desire to continue — and excel — on the collegiate level is more than a hope. It's an obsession.

She'll be competing with the track and field team in the spring, but Wiser's bread and butter is on grass, where her strengths of strategic maneuvering and pinpoint accelerations are utilized more.

And many agree with that.

"She thinks, constantly," said

Nine Fennoy, who coached East St. Louis Lincoln to a fourth place finish in the state meet.

"You would love to have a runner like Lora because she's so tough inside. She goes out and runs her race, all the time and that takes discipline."

"I never really matters who else is in the race. She does what she feels she's capable of. No more, no less."

"Lora is the kind of runner that can picture the race before its run and tell herself what she's got to get done," says SIUE coach John Flamer. "And she usually gets it done."

With all of the hoopla the senior has received, some thought Wiser could actually be underrated. What comes to light when the conversation hits the surface is her consistency.

Wiser has been a consistent performer all four years, which is rare for female athletes. Statistics show that during the last several seasons, the state championships have been dominated by underclassmen, mainly freshmen and sophomores.

Upperclassmen seem to falter and it's a statistic Fennoy refers to as

(See WISER, Page 12)

Unbeaten jayvee kickers: A team of balance

By GREGG OCHOA
Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Comparing good sports teams is a lot like trying to spot the difference between a curveball and a slider from the upper deck of the stadium.

It's nearly impossible.

In truth, all winning teams are good at some things, which is why they are so successful. The same philosophy applies to Granite City's 1985 junior varsity soccer team.

"This team was good," said Mel Bunting, the junior varsity coach. "But I don't like to compare teams. It's a lot like comparing apples to oranges. You just can't do it."

So, rather than make comparisons, just let the numbers tell the story.

The Warriors finished the season undefeated with a record of 12-0-3. One of the ties was a game against Belleville East that was called due to darkness.

The jayvee kickers outscored their opponents 46-3 and posted 13 shutouts during the year.

"Defensively, they were strong," Bunting said. "To allow only three goals in a season. That's the best we have done."

Bunting, who also serves as a varsity assistant to Gene Baker, has never had a losing season as a jayvee coach. Since 1973, his teams have posted 139 wins.

"With the competition we played, to go undefeated is quite an accomplishment," Bunting said.

The Warriors averaged approximately three goals a game and offensively were able to, at times, dominate their opposition.

Take, for example, the following statistic: Granite City took 73 corner kicks and held the opponents to just nine. That means the Warriors were on the attack the majority of the time in each game played.

Granite City's success during the season also earned some members a promotion to the varsity. Eight jayvee kickers earned the right to dress for varsity contests. And almost all of the group saw some playing time.

"These are the highlights," Bunting said. "That is the purpose of the jayvee program."

Bunting said his team's best game was a 3-0 win over Quincy on the road.

"At the time we played them they were undefeated," Bunting said. "They were a very competitive team."

Another moment that stuck out was a come-from-behind win over St. Mary's (in St. Louis).

Four players shared scoring honors with five goals apiece. They were Rich Pyle, Bill Aleksandrian, Derrick Wilkinson and Chris Ryan.

Derrick Wilkinson led the team in assists with eight.

The team was balanced.

"We had our ups and downs," Bunting admitted. "We never really knew who has going to have a great game, but we were able to go to the bench and find someone who could fill in for us."

Granite City fielded a large team. The roster swelled to as many as 38 players.

"Numerically, that was a problem," Bunting said. "But I'm sure a lot of coaches would love a problem like that."

"An awful lot of the kids were very close in terms of abilities. That made it difficult, trying to be fair but at the same time not hurting the progression of the varsity."

As a result, playing time was shared. For example, two players

(Craig Dippel and Randy Chapman) held down the goalkeeping chores.

The defense also saw some new faces as some players were moved up to the varsity level. Mike Lane, Jim Parker, Rob Swanson, Jeff Boyd and Jeff Grote were among those who made contributions on defense.

"I have to compliment my team for sticking with it," Bunting said. "They knew they would get to play when the opportunity presented itself. They were very adult about that."

But even with the new faces in the lineup, the Warriors kept on rolling. Collinsville was the only team to blemish the Warriors record, earning 0-0 and 1-1 ties. As far as the game against East which was called, Granite City has bombed the Lancers earlier, 7-0.

The junior varsity kickers will be officially honored with the varsity team at a banquet on Nov. 20 at the high school cafeteria.

"For all of the boys involved, they should be very proud of their season," Bunting said. "I know I'm proud of them."

Wiser

the Unisex Syndrome.

"In most of my years of coaching, it's been about the same," Fennoy said. "When girls first start running cross country as freshmen, it is the center their lives. At that point, they're trying to figure out if they are a boy or a girl. Running is almost all they do."

"By the time they reach their second and third years, they gain weight, which is natural, but they come in contact with other factors, other outside interests. And it slows down their progress."

Fennoy pointed out the plight of Collinsville's Pam Quarengi, who as a sophomore was second in the state in cross country and the mile. But after that, she never returned to the cross country state meet.

Wiser fell in love with running at Prather Junior High when she found out she could do it better than the boys.

"I basically have the same interest I did in my freshmen year," she said. "I really don't do all that much to keep me away from running. I love to do it."

Wiser jumped in the limelight early at Granite City. In the first meet of her career, she ran first for the Warriors and beat the team's No. 1 runner, who was a senior.

She went on to run first all four years, which she says now, "was a lot of pressure sometimes."

"There were many times when I'd be ready to run and everyone would come up to me and say I know you can beat so-and-so and let's get first place," Wiser said. "I would just say to myself, I hope I can."

"But all I can think about now is how much I'm going to miss everyone after I leave. The team has been so supportive of me. I needed them just as much as they needed me."

"What I loved about the season was that we were all just one big family. Everyone on the team got along with one another."

About the future, Wiser is leaning heavily towards Western Illinois, a Division I program in Macomb. She wants to major in English and teach.

"She deserves everything she gets," said Harmon. "She's a wonderful girl. She's got great ability and she works hard. Can you beat that combination?"

Hartigan's decision could lead to stronger Democratic ticket

Attorney General Neil Hartigan's decision not to oppose former U.S. Senator Adlai Stevenson for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination may improve the party's chances to oust Republican incumbent Gov. James R. Thompson next year, say several area Democratic leaders.

Even those who favored Hartigan expressed a sense of relief that the party will avoid what was expected to be a bitter and expensive primary clash.

HARTIGAN ANNOUNCED Monday he was ending his quest to be the governor nominee in 1986 and will seek another term as attorney general. State Comptroller Roland Burris, who was running for attorney general, said he will seek another term as comptroller.

Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles said she thought Hartigan would be a good governor, but said she is "very happy it's been resolved for the sake of the party."

A Hartigan-Stevenson race would have "split the party wide open," Bowles said.

William R. Haine of Alton, a Madison County Board member and precinct committeeman who backed Hartigan, called the withdrawal a statesmanlike act.

"I'm sure those of us who supported Neil will support Adlai," Haine said. He said he expects Stevenson to be an excellent candidate and an excellent governor. "The voters can't lose with both men in the Statehouse," Haine said.

HE SAID STEVENSON has assembled a good campaign staff and has been more aggressive than in the 1982 campaign, when he lost to Thompson by a razor-thin margin.

Madison County Treasurer Michael S. Henkhaus said Hartigan must have been frustrated by his poor showing in recent polls, considering how long he has been campaigning.

"If anybody's going to beat Thompson, it's going to be Stevenson. He's just got that name," said Henkhaus. "If he (Stevenson) had had any kind of a good organization the last time, he would have won the election."

While many party leaders around the state were backing Hartigan, the polls indicated voters were more favorable to Stevenson, Henkhaus said.

HARTIGAN HAS BEEN "a darn good attorney general" and the party should have a strong ticket in next year's general election, Henkhaus added.

Rep. Jim McPike, D-Alton, a Stevenson supporter, said "Hartigan's decision was 'good for the Democratic Party.'" McPike is the Illinois House majority leader.

McPike said that "although some primary contests have helped the party in the past, this one had begun to deteriorate very rapidly and appeared it was going to be personal assaults."

He speculated that a Chicago Tribune poll, whose results became known Friday, convinced Hartigan to withdraw. It gave Stevenson a 2-1 lead "although Hartigan had spent a million bucks and Stevenson hadn't spent a penny." He said he thinks Stevenson will run a much better campaign against Thompson than Stevenson did in 1982.

THE SHIFTING of House Democratic Chief of Staff Gary LaPaille to Stevenson's campaign to run "day-to-day operations," as well as the involvement of Larry Hanson (Stevenson's top aide when he was a U.S. senator and who was on a past campaign staff of Walter Mondale) will guarantee better organization, McPike said.

Although Hartigan had the backing of most party officials in Madison County, McPike believes they will now support Stevenson against Thompson.

He said a large number of party officials around the state who had been backing Hartigan sent in letters of support to Stevenson after Hartigan's withdrawal became known.

McPike as majority leader is close to House Speaker Michael Madigan, D-Chicago, who has been the principal catalyst behind Stevenson running again. LaPaille has long been Madigan's top aide.

McPIKE LEARNED of Hartigan's decision through a call from Madigan Sunday night.

McPike has been encouraging a fellow member of the House Democratic leadership, Rep. E. J. "Zeke" Giorgi of Rockford, to consider running for the nomination for lieutenant governor.

McPike has been coordinating early Stevenson campaign efforts in Madison and St. Clair counties and Giorgi has assumed a similar role in the northern part of the state.

DEMOCRATIC 21st District State Central Committeeman Bruce Cook said he regards Stevenson as a stronger candidate than Hartigan. U.S. Senator Alan Dixon, who had leaned toward favoring Hartigan, praised the attorney general for putting party unity above his personal hopes.

Dixon said the resulting state ticket will be strong.

U.S. SENATOR Paul Simon, who had led toward favoring Stevenson after the latter decided to enter the primary race, was present at Monday's announcement of Hartigan's switch in plans.

Also present were Stevenson and two Chicago rivals, Mayor Harold Washington and Alderman Edward Vrdolyak, Cook County Democratic chairman. Stevenson praised Hartigan after earlier statements that Hartigan had failed to develop any effective campaign issues.

State Sen. Sam Vadalabene of this district said a Hartigan candidacy for governor might have been hampered by less than enthusiastic support from Washington and Madigan.

VADALABENE VOICED surprise, noting that Hartigan in recent days had said "I wouldn't get me out" of the governor primary.

Madison County Republican Chairman Edward Ragadale predicted a dull Democratic primary campaign and said he expects Gov. Thompson to gain a repeat victory over the previously undefeated Stevenson.

Jobs and training available for jobless

Employment and training opportunities for area residents who have been laid off are available through the local operation of a nationally funded program.

The Madison County Employment and Training Department is providing job search assistance, on-the-job training, vocational or technical skill training/retraining, and other related services at its Center for Assessment, Retraining and Employment (CARE) in Edwardsville. The program is funded through the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA).

Applicants must meet program eligibility standards for consideration. Applications are taken by appointment through the JTPA representative at the local Illinois State Job Service office Monday through Friday between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. All services are provided free of charge.

The Madison County Employment and Training Department is an equal opportunity employer/trainer.

Brownie Troop 374 tours Losch Farms

The Mitchell School first grade's Brownie Troop 374 went to Losch Farms for a fall outing. Those who attended were Laura Crites, Nicole McDowell, Rachel Mefford, Crystal Timmons, Crystal Bolton, Tonya Barton, Joanne King, Rebecca Besserman, Angel King, Tonya Kolls, Stephanie Benko, Stephanie Piechocinski, Carrie Jackson and Danielle Walton.

Accompanying the girls was their leader, Kathy Piechocinski, along with members of the girls' families.

The scouts went on a 20-minute hayride and were given a tour of pumpkin and watermelon patches. They entertained each other and the family members with Halloween songs and stories.

Following the hayride, the girls scrambled through a huge pile of pumpkins, each picking one out to take home. The Brownies concluded their visit by enjoying popcorn and playing in straw mazes.

TOOLBOX, GASOLINE TAKEN Matthew Windsor, 2217 Charles St., said Nov. 8 someone entered a 1981 Fiat truck he drives for Shop-N-Save and took a tool box and overalls. Thirty gallons of gasoline were siphoned out of the truck's tank.

Harvest-time ride

HAYRIDE WITH PUMPKINS is enjoyed by students of the Granite City Park District's Tuesday and Thursday afternoon preschool program. The ride through Wilson Park and related activities attracted 22 pupils of Lynn McClain and Kathy Hitt. Pumpkins were hidden in the sunken garden at the park and each child had an opportunity to search for one to take home. The class meets twice a week at the Harold Brown Recreation Center.

Mr. & Mrs. Philip Mang announce second child

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Mang of Glen Carbon, formerly of Granite City, are announcing the birth of their second child, a boy, Nov. 4 at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The new arrival has been named Michael Philip and weighed 6 pounds, 5 ounces. He has a sister, Gina Maria, three years old. Paternal grandfather is Samuel Mang of Venice and the maternal grandparents are Gene and Maria Lake of Glen Carbon.

Gateway BPW to hear 2 young career women

Two candidates for the "Young Careerist" title will address the Gateway Business and Professional Women's Organization on Monday, Nov. 18.

Dorothy Elmore and Jackie Kues will speak at the monthly dinner meeting to be held at The Den beginning at 6 p.m. Donna Jones, this year's Young Careerist chairman, announced.

Guest speaker will be John Royce, a representative of the Elks Lodge. Members of the Elks were instrumental in securing funds to aid the anti-drug-abuse program in the Granite City School District. Gateway BPW donated to the project.

The dinner will cost $9 and reservations are to be made by calling Ollie Derr at 877-8251 after 5 p.m. or Donna Jones after 5:30 p.m. at 451-7773. Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m., with the program to follow.

Dorothy Elmore resides at 19 Lily Court and is employed at Center Bank, Center Plaza, St. Louis, as a secretary. Her duties include word processing, filing, telephone answering, stenography and reservations.

She previously worked as a secretary for Edison Brothers Shoe Stores Inc. in St. Louis. Elmore is a graduate of Madison High School and Belleville Area College's Granite City Campus, where she studied business administration and secretarial science. She also received a certificate from Miss Vanderschmidt's Secretarial School in St. Louis.

Her interests and hobbies include education, family, BPW and Mary Kay Cosmetics.

She is married to William Elmore and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nash, 316 Highway 203, Madison.

Employed as property manager for Center Trust Company of St. Louis, Jackie A. Kues of Aviston, Ill., has duties that include managing properties, preparing monthly reports and inspecting properties.

She formerly worked as a cook, bookkeeper and new employees' trainer for Colonel's Family Inn, Aviston.

Kues graduated from Central Community High School in Brees and then graduated from the Hickey School in Clayton, where she studied secretarial and business fields.

While in high school, Kues was listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students. She was on the honor roll and received an English achievement award in 1981.

An avid sports fan, the candidate enjoys horseback riding and snow and water skiing. She also enjoys shopping.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kues, 399 W. Oak St., Aviston.

Kues has been in many community programs and served as a volunteer for the Aviston Recreational Program, where she taught 20 children under pre-school age a variety of activities.

The Young Career Woman program, inaugurated in 1983 by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Organizations, highlights the achievements of young career women and is one of many programs sponsored by BPW to elevate the status of women.

Candidates will present three-minute talks on "High-Tech Future for Working Women." They will be interviewed by a panel of judges and will be guests of Gateway BPW for the evening. A cash prize will be awarded to the woman chosen as "Young Careerist."

The winner will represent the sponsoring organization at District 14 competition. If successful at that level, the Young Careerist is eligible to compete at the BPW state convention.

75 YEARS

Parente-Worthen

Beth A. Worthen and Joseph D. Parente were married Sept. 27 at St. Joseph Catholic Church by Father Joseph Roelke.

The bride is the daughter of L. Monroe Worthen and Flora L. Worthen of Granite City and the groom is the son of Don and Delores Parente of Granite City.

The maid of honor was Sherrille McNeil and the bridesmaids were Peggy Smolich, Stephanie Pohlman and two sisters of the groom, Cindy Parente and Diane Jackson.

The best man was John Lakin and the groomsmen were Rich Becher, Keith Champion, Ron Rares, brother of the groom, and Cory V. then, brother of the bride. The junior bridesmaid was Melissa Worthen, a niece of the bride.

The ring bearer was Ronnie Parente, a nephew of the groom. Ushers were Tim Anderson and Kevin Wilson.

Maureen Worthen, sister-in-law of the bride, was program hostess and Mike and Christy Hagnauer were guitarists and singers.

Mary Aufderheide, an aunt of the groom, decorated and served the cake.

A reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall. After a wedding trip to Hawaii, the newlyweds are residing in Granite City.

The bride is a 1979 graduate of Granite City High School South and is employed by the Madison County treasurer's office in Edwardsville as a collection clerk.

The groom is a 1977 graduate of Granite City High School South and a 1981 graduate of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where he received a bachelor of science degree. In 1983, he received a master's degree in city and regional planning from SIUE. He is employed by Madison County Community Development as the coordinator.

50th anniversary party for Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shaver

Mr. and Mrs. Russell (Robert) Shaver of Madison were guests of honor at a surprise dinner given by their children in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary. The event was held at The Den in Granite City.

Shaver and the former Roberta King were married Nov. 2, 1935, in Southern Illinois.

He retired in 1976 from South Roxana Grade School, where he was principal. He also taught in Southern Illinois, was a teacher in Madison and was an administrator on the staff of the Madison County superintendent of schools before going to Roxana.

They are the parents of Toni Holmes, Ron Shaver, Jackie Seale and the late Karen Cotter. They have nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Guests attending were Diana, Bud, Buddy and Jaime Prazma, Frank D. and Frank E. Holmes, Suzy Neubauer, Mark and Jean Cotter, Jeff Cotter, Bill Seago, Kim and Joe DeGonia, Phyllis, Becky, Rhonda and Tony Shaver, Eddie, Gerald and Eva Shaver, Pat and Jean Shlayden, and Carol and Jack Taylor.

Mrs. Norma Rains is chapter hostess

Laureate Alpha Gamma Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met in the home of Norma Rains. The president, Ruth Stoyanoff, presided at the meeting.

The advisor, Lucille Voyles, is to be honored for participating in the chapter for 30 years. Some of the members will visit her and present a gift in appreciation for her years of service to the chapter.

The social committee announced that on Nov. 30 members will visit the Art Museum in St. Louis and all are to meet at Ruth Stoyanoff's home.

Delores Byrnes and Ruth Stoyanoff were in charge of the cultural program, on "Spanish Writers. During the Renaissance Period." Cervantes and Carpio were discussed.

An executive board meeting was held at the Hen House, and the agenda centered on social and service projects. Those attending the board session were Juanita Calve, Martha Dwyer, Jane Stevens, Lora Mae Lombardi, Ruth Stoyanoff and Pat Tsigaloroff.

The hostess served a dessert course to Lora Mae Lombardi, Juanita Calve, Imogene Forrest, Ruth Stoyanoff, Evelyn Tolliver, Pat Tsigaloroff, Arlene Haldeman, Delores Byrnes and Jane Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. James Logan

Logan-Hufford

Patricia L. Hufford and James J. Logan were married Sept. 28 at the First United Methodist Church of Washington, Mo., by the Rev. Leo Shumaker.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Williams of Danville and the groom is the son of Ruby Logan of Granite City and the late Maurice Logan.

The matron of honor was Bernice Wolfe of Granite City.

The best man was Francis "Rocky" McBride of Granite City.

A reception was held at Loretto Ridge Farms, home of the groom in Labadie, Mo.

After a wedding trip to the island of Maui, Hawaii, they are residing in Labadie.

The bride is a graduate of the Danville schools and is employed at Chippewa Bank in St. Louis as a secretary.

The groom, a graduate of Granite City High School, earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Illinois, Champaign, and a law degree from the University of Missouri, Columbia. He is employed by the James F. Koester law firm of St. Louis as a lawyer.

Celebrity auction Friday to benefit Parents Plus

A celebrity auction here tomorrow will feature as guests Cardinal baseball star Tito Landrum, General Manager Dal Maxvill of the baseball Cardinals, the football Cardinals' Little Red Line and St. Louis soccer Steamers' Steam Heat Dancers.

The auction is set for Friday, Nov. 15, at the Knights of Columbus, 4225 Old Alton Road.

The auction, sponsored by Parents Plus, is to begin at 6 p.m. Tickets costing $25 for two people over the age of 12 may be purchased by contacting Parents Plus at 877-9429 during the day or 452-0467 after 5 p.m. The cost of an adult admission is applicable toward an auction bid.

There will be a buffet and a cash bar during the evening.

All proceeds will be used to support the program for parenting and pregnant teens. Parents Plus is a not-for-profit organization serving Madison and St. Clair counties.

Its two-fold mission is to prevent unwanted adolescent pregnancies and to enable parenting teens to become productive citizens and effective, caring parents.

Among the goals are reducing long-term dependence on public welfare, reducing second pregnancies among teens, eliminating child abuse and neglect, and promoting a healthy, responsible attitude among teenagers toward themselves and society.

Eagles Auxiliary at district meet

The quarterly Eagles Auxiliary District 7 meeting was hosted by Wood River Auxiliary 2773, with 35 members present. Local members attending were Helen Lipchik, district chaplain, and Mary Horvat and Mary Nemeth.

Wood River President Mildred Murphy opened the meeting and welcomed all guests. Conductor Helen Meyers escorted honored guests into the meeting hall, including Evelyn Sweeney, Wood River, Illinois Eagles Auxiliary treasurer. The president presented each guest with a gift.

Catherine Smith of Alton, district chairman, presided.

An initiation ceremony was conducted by the Illinois Eagles Auxiliary champion ritual team. Those initiated were Leola Adair and Mildred Meyers.

A discussion was conducted by Mary Stogner and Evelyn Sweeney.

A $50 donation to the benefit fund for Vera Dailey, Illinois Auxiliary past state president, who is seriously ill, was approved.

Prizes were awarded to Stella McCall and Alice Anderson. Alton Auxiliary 254 will host the next district meeting, it was noted.

Chapter HT plans fall craft auction

Chapter HT, PEO Sisterhood, is planning a craft auction for Sunday, Dec. 8, from 2 to 4 p.m. at Sacred Heart Church, Susan Morgan, chairman, has announced.

At a meeting of the chapter, Dorothy Kerch reported a Cotley College representative will be in this area Nov. 18 and will explain scholarships that are available.

Heloise McIntosh of Hot Springs, Ark., was a visitor.

Committee reports were given by Judy Dailey and Gail Miotky. Fifteen members answered roll call, with Betty Robertson presiding over the meeting.

Harry Taylor was hostess and Faith Holsinger invited the members to the home of Marie Robertson for the chapter birthday party. Plans are also being made for the 1986 PEO state convention to be held in St. Louis.

Senior Volunteers Tea set Nov. 20

Granite City seniors 60 years of age or older are being invited to attend an old-fashioned tea, sponsored by the Red Red Senior Volunteer Program on Wednesday, Nov. 20, from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. at the RSVP office (McKinley School), 22nd and Iowa streets.

The tea is to introduce a new staff member, Jerri Casson, who will be working in Granite City recruiting new volunteers and volunteer situations and meeting the volunteers already working through RSVP.

Anyone 60 or older who does not know about the Retired Senior Volunteer Program is being invited to attend.

Niedringhaus PTA will meet Tuesday

Niedringhaus School PTA at its next meeting Nov. 19 at 7 p.m. in the school gym will have as guest speaker Gary Morgan. He will present photographic slides and will speak about the Granite City School District.

Morgan is a graphic arts teacher at Granite City High School.

Mrs. Gary Stark

Stark-Warchol

Carlyn Sue Warchol and Gary Wayne Stark were married Oct. 12 at St. John United Church of Christ by the Rev. Alan Reiter.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albin Warchol of Granite City and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E.O. Stark Jr. of Granite City.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Janice Forrest of Belleville, a sister of the bride.

Bridesmaids were Barbara Caple, Lisa St. Cin, Sue Krekovich, Judy Taylor and Chris Polkowski.

The best man was John Scheffel of San Jose, Calif.

The groomsmen were Rory Magyar, Bob Kratz, Greg Barr, Mark Summers and Rudy Pyle.

The miniature bride was Kristen Payton, the groom's cousin, and the miniature groom was Michael Laplant, the groom's nephew.

The ring bearer was Brandon Clark, the bride's nephew.

Ushers were Jim Warchol, the bride's brother, and Lester Robinson, the groom's brother.

A reception was held at the Knights of Columbus.

After a wedding trip to Paradise Island, Bahamas, they are residing in Collinsville.

The bride is a graduate of Assumption High School, employed by F.B. Hall and Co. Inc., a St. Louis insurance firm, as a customer service representative.

The groom is a graduate of Granite City High School and is self-employed at Stark Construction Co. as a contractor.

Young businessmen to study in Brazil

The 48 Rotary clubs of District 646, West Central Illinois, are accepting applications for an upcoming cultural exchange program with Brazil.

The group study exchange is an educational activity of the Foundation of Rotary International with the purpose of promoting international understanding, accomplished through an exchange between paired Rotary Districts in different countries.

The study teams are composed of five young non-Rotary business and professional men who must be between the ages of 25 and 35, in good health, of high moral character, employed in a business or profession for at least two years.

The non-Rotarian team members will be accompanied by a Rotarian appointed by the district governor and will follow a carefully prepared study program designed to give them understanding of the family, economic and institutional life of Brazil. The team will stay individually in the homes of Brazilian Rotarians.

Prior to departing on the six-week tour, the team will spend one week together in cultural orientation and language training. Applicants must commit Feb. 24 through April 22, 1986, to the program.

Rotary covers transportation costs. Meals, lodging and travel of the group while in the host district will be provided by the host Rotarians.

For further information and application forms, businessmen may contact the Madison-Venice or Granite City Rotary clubs; David Hedrick, chairman GSE Exchange, RR 1, Box 244A, Petersburg, Ill. 62675; or Robert A. Stuart, Jr., District Governor, 700 First National Bank Building, Springfield, Ill. 62701.

Church Activities

St. Peter's Church welcomes new pastor

The Rev. Ronald Eugene Petersen will assume his duties as the new pastor of St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ, 2101 Cleveland Blvd., Sunday, Nov. 17. He was born July 20, 1931, in Chicago, Ill., the son of the late Carl W. and Nellie L. Petersen.

After graduation from Fenger High School in 1949 he served in the U.S. Army during the Korean war. On Dec. 13, 1952, he and the former Betty Ann Taylor of Ayer, Mass., were married.

They moved to Des Plaines, Ill., where he worked for Do All Cutting Tools and later for Ford Motor Co. Rev. Petersen entered Grinnell College in Iowa in 1954 and in 1957 earned a bachelor of arts degree in philosophy. The couple moved to Boston, Mass., where he enrolled in Andover Newton Theological School, earning a bachelor of divinity degree in 1960.

Ordained to Christian ministry on May 21, 1960, Rev. Petersen has served parishes in Center Ossipee, N.H.; Des Plaines, Marquette, Cincinnati and Madison, Ohio, and Covington, Ky. His most recent parish was the Hartsgrove (Ohio) Community Church.

The Petersens have a son, Michael, born in 1962 and a daughter, Melissa, born in 1965. In 1967 he was awarded an honorary doctor of divinity degree by Piedmont College, Demorest, Ga., for his work as missionary to the Lake Erie islands during his Marquette pastorate.

He earned a master of sacred theology degree in ecumenical studies from Andover Newton in 1968. He also is a Kentucky colonel, an honor given him for his work in Covington.

The Petersen family will reside at 2103 Cleveland Blvd.

Church Events

By DONNA KIMBRO

A WORKSHOP sponsored by the American Red Cross for volunteers of Hospice will be conducted Tuesday, Nov. 19, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Pachel Hall at St. Elizabeth Medical Center. There will be a $3 registration fee.

The workshop is designed specifically for volunteers to provide information on helping families to cope with a terminal illness.

Patriot Fleming, MSW, family therapist at Family and Children's Services of St. Louis, will be the guest speaker. He formerly served as chaplain at St. Mary's Hospital in Richmond Heights, Mo.

CITY TEMPLE Assembly of God Church, 4751 Maryville Road, will sponsor a chicken and dumpling dinner Saturday, Nov. 16. All proceeds will be used for the choir robe fund.

Dinner will be served from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. and tickets costing $3.50 for adults, $2.50 for children aged 5-12 and $1 for those under five years of age will be sold at the door.

JUANITA BROWN read a Thanksgiving poem and prayer to open a meeting of Ruth Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 3940 Highway 111. A Moody Bible Institute science film entitled "The Beginning, God" will be shown at 7:45 a.m.

The growth of radio astronomy has pushed man's horizon outward to the "very threshold of time," the film says. It was made at sites around the world and raises questions on the nature and origin of the universe, the Rev. Wayne Musiates, host pastor, said.

The Rev. Silas Hong, Ph.D., executive director of underground evangelism to the Chinese, will speak at the church in the 7 p.m. service this Sunday.

Dr. Hong will give a first-hand report of the current status of Christianity on mainland China, including the extent of religious freedom, how Christians cope with Communism, and evidence of growth in the number of believers.

Dr. Hong is a native of Hubei, China. He has served through Inter-Aid International for 11 years and has been directing evangelism since 1977. He is the author of a book, Dragon Net.

The special events Sunday are a part of the fall Sunday school drive, "Keep on Praying," the pastor said.

Margaret Rutter, leader, led the session with a discussion involving people of other denominations, including Ruby Streiber, Janet Davis, Oia Jones, and Florence Simpson. They spoke on the topic, "We are Christians, But We Don't Agree."

A book review was given by Madge Hanson and President Helen Stumpe conducted the business segment.

Nameoki Presbyterian to install officers

New officers will be installed in the Nameoki Presbyterian Church at a Thanksgiving homecoming dinner Nov. 24.

Bill Widdows, Mrs. Elmer (Sandra) Goode, Albert Supp and Mrs. Roger (Deborah) Yokely were recently elected to the Session of the congregation.

Elected to the Board of Deacons were Veda Norton, Steve Fuller, Dorothy Melvin and Marian Watson. The board is committed to the ministry of caring and serving, and also functions as the fellowship committee. Both deacons and elders serve 3-year terms.

Other congregational officers for the upcoming year are Deborah Yokely, church treasurer; Kathryn Pomeroy, financial secretary; and Mary French, special projects treasurer.

The Thanksgiving dinner is being planned by the deacons, according to Chairman Fred Barringer. There will be a sing-along and history-sharing prior to the noon meal.

"Bridges to Maturity: Phase One" is being sponsored by the Session and the Board of Deacons. A Bible study and fellowship event is held Tuesday evenings at 7, led by Pastor Donald Pierson and open to the public.

The Advent season will be ushered in with Communion on Sunday, Dec. 1. A family night will be held Sunday, Dec. 8, coordinated by the Christian Education and Worship Committees with Judy Hankins and Beverly Scroggins as chairmen.

Cornerstone 33AD to perform Sunday

The Cornerstone 33AD gospel singing group will be appearing in concert at Bethesda Baptist Church, 3035 Nameoki Drive, Sunday, Nov. 17, at 2 p.m., according to the Rev. Luther Abbott, pastor of the church.

The musical group from St. Louis offers a variety of Southern, quartet-style gospel songs.

The group consists of six members. Glen Gobel, lead singer and manager of the group, organized the singers in 1979. They spend 45 weekends annually touring Illinois and Missouri areas.

They travel about 25,000 miles a year, attracting crowds at numerous outdoor concert, campground and church events as well as civic functions.

The public is being invited to attend.

8 marriage licenses issued to area couples

Marriage licenses issued through the office of Evelyn Bowles, Madison County clerk, Edwardsville, to Quad-City residents include:

Leroy E. Haxton and Kelly Dawn Mulligan, William Alan Hughes and Deidra A. Schroeder, James Albert Metcalfe Jr. and Cheryl Ann Barton, Brian Douglas Oestricher and Karen Marie Hamilos, John M. Overturf and Bonnie L.S. Burke, Lyle G. Porter and Betty J. Jamerson, all of Granite City.

NY Vongsaly, St. Louis, and Catrina Valerie Connor, Granite City.

Douglas A. Wilmsmeyer, Granite City, and Tracy L. Johnson, Fairview Heights.

Psalm 100:2 ... "Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing."

"The most satisfying and fulfilling experience is that of serving God. The knowledge that we are doing something for Him fills a need within us that nothing else in the world can."

We were created by Him for His good pleasure. It is God's desire to have fellowship with us. He is most pleased when He is close to us.

One of the outstanding characteristics of a Christian is his joy. He is happy inside and it shows outside. He serves God with gladness.

Will you serve Him? Today.

Thanksgiving and Bible Week service

With Thanksgiving Day occurring in the middle of National Bible Week, the local Christian Science congregation is making preparations for both.

A special Thanksgiving Day service is planned for the community and members of First Church of Christ, Scientist, 2560 Delmar Ave., Thursday, Nov. 28, at 10:45 a.m.

During the same week, the local church will join other denominations in marking this year's National Bible Week theme: "Bring your mind as well as your heart to the Bible."

Special displays will appear in the Reading Room window at 1336 19th St. An entire issue of the Christian Science Sentinel available at the Reading Room focuses on the enduring vitality of scripture.

The service will include hymns of praise, brief silent prayer, and readings from scripture on Thanksgiving.

Since Christian Science churches are lay churches, "sermons" are not written by ministers but are composed of Bible readings with correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, written by church founder Mary Baker Eddy.

VOLUNTEER CLERK

Individual will be responsible for checking out of Loan Closet items and returning of same to authorized individuals. The volunteer is needed from 12 noon to 2 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays at the Granite City Depot. Training will be provided.

A military individual or family member is preferred. For information, Pat Gay can be contacted at 452-4260.

GROUP FACILITATORS

Were you a teen mom? Parents Plus needs you to facilitate teen moms in the Granite City area. While facilitating teen moms you will become familiar with their babies; interact with moms and you share experiences with the group.

Interested persons, age 22-42 should contact Cora Berry at Mental Health Services, 877-4420.

Rev. Walter Attig

Recently a divorced woman with two children came to this office inquiring about a will. She was concerned if she died while the children were still young that her former husband would get custody. She also wanted to be certain that her ex-husband did not receive any of her property at the time of her death.

In this case, the couple had obtained a divorce five years earlier. There were two children, and the wife obtained custody. During the intervening years, the father had little contact with the children and refused to pay child support. The mother in this situation hoped to name a custodian for the children in her will and thereby bypass the father in the event she should die at a young age.

We should first explore what would happen if this woman died without a will. In terms of her property, it would all go to her children. Her former spouse would receive nothing in this situation. With regard to custody, the Court would place the minors based on what was in the "best interest of the children." If the father expressed an interest, one would have to think that in most situations the Court would award custody to him unless he was unfit.

Are there advantages, then, to this woman having a will? One thing to be gained is that she can designate that the children's property should be left in trust at the time of her death. This is known as a testamentary trust and it allows the person making the will to name a responsible person to administer the money and use it wisely on behalf of the children. The mother in the will could not only name a trustee for the trust, but she could also indicate at what age the children should receive their entire trust share.

Can she bypass the father as custodian by naming someone else in the will? As previously indicated, the Court will award custody at the time of her death based on the "best interests of the children." By naming someone else in the will, it seems to this writer that she is at least presenting the Court with an alternative to the natural father. Hopefully, the wishes of the mother expressed in the will would have some influence on the Judge at the time he makes his decision regarding custody.

Central Baptist to hear Rev. Silas Hong

Two special events will take place Sunday, Nov. 17, at Central Baptist Church, 3940 Highway 111. A Moody Bible Institute science film entitled "The Beginning, God" will be shown at 7:45 a.m.

The growth of radio astronomy has pushed man's horizon outward to the "very threshold of time," the film says. It was made at sites around the world and raises questions on the nature and origin of the universe, the Rev. Wayne Musiates, host pastor, said.

The Rev. Silas Hong, Ph.D., executive director of underground evangelism to the Chinese, will speak at the church in the 7 p.m. service this Sunday.

Dr. Hong will give a first-hand report of the current status of Christianity on mainland China, including the extent of religious freedom, how Christians cope with Communism, and evidence of growth in the number of believers.

Dr. Hong is a native of Hubei, China. He has served through Inter-Aid International for 11 years and has been directing evangelism since 1977. He is the author of a book, Dragon Net.

The special events Sunday are a part of the fall Sunday school drive, "Keep on Praying," the pastor said.

Margaret Rutter, leader, led the session with a discussion involving people of other denominations, including Ruby Streiber, Janet Davis, Oia Jones, and Florence Simpson. They spoke on the topic, "We are Christians, But We Don't Agree."

A book review was given by Madge Hanson and President Helen Stumpe conducted the business segment.

SIU Board offers premium payment plan to employees

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees has approved plans whereby university employees may reduce their taxable income and increase take-home pay by allowing the university to pay premiums for health and "optional" life insurance coverage.

The plans are the result of legislation approved by the General Assembly and Gov. James Thompson this year, authorizing the Department of Central Management Services (CMS) to approve plans whereby State employees and officers, including those of State universities and colleges, may enter into agreements with their employer to elect to receive, in lieu of salary or wages, benefits which are not taxable under the federal Internal Revenue Code.

The SIU plans will be finalized by the chancellor, who will seek the necessary approvals from the director of CMS. Initial approval will be sought to qualify the premiums paid by SIU employees for dependent health care insurance and for premiums on life insurance bought by employees on an optional basis. SIU officers said as other benefits become eligible, amendments to the SIU plans will be developed and approval from CMS will be sought.

Citing the practical consequences of the premium payment plan, SIU officers said an employee with four dependents insured through the university's health insurance program could increase the employee's take-home pay by nearly $300 per year if earning $20,000 and by over $350 if earning $30,000. The amount of employee benefit would vary with the number of dependents, the types of dependent coverage elected, and the level of taxable income.

BAC to present 'The Crucible'

"The Crucible," a drama about the Salem (Mass.) witch trials, will be presented at Belleville Area College at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Nov. 22 and 23, and at 2:15 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 24.

Arthur Miller wrote the play in 1953, during Sen. Joseph McCarthy's "witch-hunts" for Communists. Miller saw a strong parallel between McCarthy's actions in this century and the 1690s, when the people of Salem were fearful of and sought out witches among their friends.

The play is directed by Charles Zeller with technical direction by Charles Jones and costuming by Karen Zeller.

Tickets for the play will go on sale Monday, Nov. 18, at the BAC Student Activities Office.

Admission is $2 for the general public. BAC students and faculty and senior citizens will be admitted free. Interested persons may call the Student Activities Office at 1-235-2700, ext. 205, for information.

Festival features 1,000 musicians

More than 1,000 musicians have been selected from Southern Illinois high schools and junior high schools to participate in the Illinois Music Educators Association District IV Music Festival on Saturday, Nov.

16, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Participants from junior high school bands, orchestras and choruses will be presented in concert in Meridian Ballroom in the University Center at 4 p.m.

The senior high school concert, also involving band, orchestra and chorus, is scheduled in the Vadalabene Center at 7:30 p.m.

Clinics and meetings are scheduled for the teachers and directors attending the festival. Top students will be selected to represent the district at the IMEA All-State Festival in Peoria during the last week of January.

The public is invited to attend the concert; admission is free.

SIUE arts festival set Nov. 21, 22

Some area schoolchildren will have the chance to write their names using Egyptian hieroglyphics, create an American quilt design, assemble a Mexican toy and learn the dances of Hawaii at the eighth annual Very Special Arts Festival (VSFA), Nov. 21 and 22 at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The VSFA is one part of a national program designed to allow special and non-disabled children to learn in, through and about the arts. The SIUE festival serves more than 800 area children.

The festival will begin at 9 a.m. in the University Center and last until 2 p.m. both days. It is divided into five components: workshops requiring reservations and teacher attendance at in-service workshops held Oct. 24; drop-in workshops which the children and teachers may attend any time during the festival; make-it and take-it craft booths; live entertainment; and artists displaying and making their wares.

Reserved workshops include "Express Yourself," "Jump Shop Boogie," "A Sensory World," "Joy to the World," "Motion — The Dancer's World of Expression," "Envision Your World," "The Beat Goes On... Around the World" and "Using Art to Expand Your World."

Drop-in workshops reflect this year's VSFA theme, "World of Rainbows." The workshops allow children to experience aspects of the cultures of Africa, America, China, Egypt, Hawaii, India, Mexico and Panama. Also highlighted will be artists, birds, faces and flags of the world, as well as the undersea world.

Also included in the VSFA is the Very Special Art Display. Artwork made by special and normal children throughout the area is displayed on the balcony of Goshen Lounge at the University Center through Nov. 22.

For more information, interested persons may contact Diane Savoca, director of the SIUE Very Special Arts Program, at 1-682-2037.

BAC memorial scholarship awarded to GC student

Claudia Lynn Branch of Granite City has been awarded the first William H. Mentzer Memorial Scholarship to Belleville Area College.

The scholarship is provided by Thomas, Lillian and William Mentzer and Margaret Wolter in memory of William H. Mentzer.

William H. Mentzer left high school in the ninth grade, Thomas Mentzer said. The elder Mentzer worked 25 years at the Mobil Oil Refinery in East St. Louis. When the plant closed, he completed his GED (general educational development) certificate. He then worked as a construction electrician before retiring in 1976.

"My father took several night classes like welding and TV repair. He always encouraged my brother and me to further our educations," Thomas Mentzer said. "The scholarship was started because he felt BAC was available for many worthy students."

Branch is a full-time nursing student at BAC, taking classes at both the Belleville and Granite City campuses since 1984. Her career goal is to become a registered nurse.

"I was delighted to learn I received the scholarship," said Branch, who has two years' experience as an aide at the Southwest Medical Center in Granite City.

Branch is the mother of three children, Jason, 13, Jessica, 12, and Christina, 8.

Poetry contest will honor Martin Luther King's life

An essay and poetry contest in honor of "the legacy, life and dream" of the late Martin Luther King Jr. has been announced as part of the January celebration of King's birthday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The contest is open to SIUE students and area high school students. Theme of the entries is "Living the Dream — the Principles of Racial Equality and Nonviolent Social Change: 1986."

According to the contest committee, essays should be from 750

1,000 words; poems should be about 500 words long. All entries are to be typed and double-spaced on one side only. Four copies are to be submitted.

Only one entry per author per category will be accepted. The author's name should appear only on the entry form (not on the poem or essay), which can be obtained from the Office of the Dean of Students at SIUE or from area high school principals.

SIUE faculty members will judge the entries on the basis of originality, organization, clarity of expression, grammar and spelling. Winners will be announced Jan. 6.

Prizes will be awarded to one high school student and one SIUE student in each category — essay and poetry. Each of the four prize winners will receive a $100 cash prize and a plaque of recognition. The winners will be guests at the Martin Luther King Jr. celebration at the University Center Jan. 14, when Shirley Chisholm will be the featured speaker.

Questions or entries may be directed to Johnita Haley, SIUE East St. Louis Center, Box 1200, SIUE Edwardsville, Ill. 62026 or to Connie Rockingham, Dean of Students Office, Box 1058, SIUE, Edwardsville, Ill. 62026. Deadline for entries is Monday, Dec. 2, at 4:30 p.m.

Engineering students offered scholarship

The National Society of Professional Engineers is making grants and scholarships available to high school seniors and enrolled college students interested in pursuing engineering careers.

Students will be judged and selected for the awards on the basis of academic standing, essays, and participation in extracurricular activities.

NSPE's scholarship program is the largest of its kind in the U.S. In 1986, it will award about $1 million worth of scholarships and grants, ranging from one-year $1,000 grants to four-year $20,000 tuition scholarships.

For applications and more information regarding the program, students may contact Shari Berger at Monsanto Company, St. Louis, Ill. 63201, 271-5855, or a high school guidance counselor.

Deadline for applying for the scholarship grant program is Nov. 22 for high school seniors and Dec. 16 for enrolled college students.

SIUE at Edwardsville

A MIXED BOUQUET OF MUSICAL offerings is included in the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Concert Chorus program for its concert at the First United Methodist Church of Carlyle, on Sunday, Nov. 17, at 8 p.m. The concert will include English anthems, Bach excerpts and Southern folk hymns. The public is invited to attend. There is no admission, but a free will offering will be accepted.

THE CENTER OF MANAGEMENT Studies at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will offer a one-day seminar in the St. Louis area for people in engineering, data processing, construction, marketing and industry who wish to learn more about project management. The course is for executives, managers and supervisors in government and industry who are concerned with effectively managing ventures and projects where cost, schedule and performance must meet rigid requirements.

The seminar is scheduled Dec. 3 at the Henry VIII Inn & Lodge, 4690 N. Lindbergh Blvd. in St. Louis. Sessions will meet from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. Additional information may be obtained by contacting James F. Miller Jr., director of the SIUE Center for Management Studies, at 1-618-692-2668.

THE STUDENT PROGRAM BOARD and the Faculty Club of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will present a comedy nightclub at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 15, in the Faculty Club Satellite and University Club Restaurant in the University Center. Comedians from the St. Louis Funnyphone Comedy Club who are scheduled to appear include Steve Springmeyer, Terry Jasper, Ron Ramey and Michael A. Smith.

Admission is $2 for SIUE students, faculty and staff and $3 for the general public. A cash bar will be available. For ticket information interested persons may call the SIUE Box Office at 1-618-692-2320.

HEALTH AND SOCIAL BENEFITS for the elderly in Sweden and Finland will be compared with those in the United States at the Dialogue with Senior Citizens at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 20, in the Mississippi Illinois Room of the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

BOTH THE MORALITY and the plurality of the movement led by the Rev. Jerry Falwell and described by the leader as the "Moral Majority" will come under fire at an international audience participation debate at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Debaters from the British Universities of Oxford and Cambridge will be guests as part of a tour of the U.S.

The debate is scheduled Monday, Nov. 18, from 2:30 to 4 p.m. in the Dome Room of the SIUE Religious Center. The event is sponsored by the Speech Communication Association, Phi Kappa Delta and the Forensic Union. The public is invited; admission is free, and there will be complimentary coffee.

CHRISTOPHER STALEY, a potter from Wichita, Kan., will lead a pottery lecture and demonstration at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 20 and 21. Activities for the two-day workshop include three demonstrations of Staley's style and skill in making pottery. The demonstrations will be held at the SIUE Wagner Complex in Edwardsville.

The first demonstration will be held Nov. 20 from 9 a.m. until noon. A second demonstration will be held that afternoon from 1 until 4 p.m. The final demonstration will be held on Nov. 21 from 9 a.m. until noon. At 7 p.m. Nov. 20, Staley will give a pottery/slide lecture at the complex. For more information, interested persons may contact the art department at 1-692-3071.

THE STUDENT PROGRAM BOARD of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville will sponsor "Battle of the Bands" competition Tuesday, Nov. 19, in the Goshen Lounge of the University Center. The competition will be held from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m.

It will feature four student-based groups from the surrounding Metro-East area. Prizes will be awarded to the first, second and third place finishers. The top winner will receive $150 and a spring booking in the Goshen Lounge. The competition is free and open to members of the public.

"JUNGLE SURVIVAL TACTICS for the Single, Professional Woman" will be presented by Rebecca Fines Tuesday, Nov. 19, at noon in the Oak Room of the University Center at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Fines is the assistant director of development for Washington University's School of Engineering.

Fines says the business world has a definite set of rules and standards which were designed by the men who run the world's corporations. Women, she says, have to learn how to "play the game" by those rules, whether they like it or not, in order to succeed. Fines will address ways to play the game intelligently in order to avoid pitfalls which hinder success. There is no admission fee and it is open to the public.

SIUE starts support system for teachers

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has instituted a new support system for classroom teachers and administrators new to the profession.

According to Don Baden, associate dean of the School of Education, the Beginning Educator Support Team (BEST) program will provide a network of support for new educators and for those who have recently moved into different positions within the field.

Teams are made up of the participating teacher or administrator, a colleague at their schools, a supervising administrator, and a university professor.

"Key members of the team are the supervising administrator and the colleague, as they work with the participating educator on a daily basis," Baden said. The SIUE professor will serve primarily as an adviser and resource guide.

Baden expects each team to differ from the others in that each group will determine its own goals and procedures. New approaches to supporting educators are expected to evolve through the program, he said.

"Many teachers leave the teaching profession during the first couple of years because they have had a bad experience," Baden said. "They don't get enough support," he added. With the necessary support, Baden feels the chances are greater that new teachers will be motivated to remain in the profession.

The interaction between teachers, their fellow workers, their supervisors and their former teachers is expected to be beneficial to all concerned. Whenever problems do arise in the classroom, Baden said, members of the team can provide possible solutions and an objective view of the situation.

"They are also aware of educational resources available to the new teacher," he said.

Baden contends that working with classroom teachers will also be a broadening experience for SIUE faculty.

"We have something to give them, and there is something we can learn from working with them," he said. Currently, there are 21 teams operating in public and private educational institutions throughout the area. Schools where BEST teams are in operation include: Venice Elementary School and Venice High School.

Local students receive scholarships

Two students at the Granite City Campus of Belleville Area College have received $500 scholarships for the 1985-86 school year.

Lisa Dohal of Madison received a scholarship from the Lions Club of Pontoon Beach. Clara Bone of Granite City was presented a scholarship from the Pontoon Beach Lions Club.

This is the third year the Lions Club has donated money for scholarships to BAC. George Goodwin, Lions scholarship committee chairman, said: Bone is the first recipient of a Lions Club scholarship, according to Barbara Murphy, who headed her group's selection committee. Dohal is enrolled in the accounting program.

"I was surprised at first to learn I won the scholarship. I know it is going to help a lot," she said.

Dohal is the daughter of Ed and Kathy Dohal of Madison. She is a 1985 graduate of Madison High School, where she was active in the National Honor Society, Student Council and yearbook staff.

"I was so thrilled to have help to go into nursing. It's something I've been interested in all my life," she said.

She is the wife of Clifford E. Bone of Granite City.

GC national honor society elects 1985-86 officers

Alpha Kappa Rho, the Phi Theta Kappa chapter at Belleville Area College's Granite City Campus, has announced its newly elected officers for the current school year.

New officers are Thomas M. Shipley, president; Phillip DeRuntz, vice president; Kim Eggemeier, corresponding secretary; Kathy Knezevich, recording secretary; Melinda Cigelske, treasurer; and Laura Hoffman, historian.

Phi Theta Kappa is recognized by the American Association of Junior Colleges as a national honor society for two-year colleges.

Students must meet requirements of the national society to become members of the Granite City chapter. Members must be attending a two-year college and have completed a minimum of 12 credit hours toward a recognized degree while maintaining at least a "B" grade point average.

Q. Even though my husband and I are earning more money than we ever thought we could, we still run out of money before we run out of month. Where does it all go?

A. Family financial planning has never been easy and today it's harder than ever. Young families, just starting out, are almost unanimous in asking the same question you have asked: This is one of the psychological hardships of today's economic environment... you feel as though you are doing something wrong. Even though you are earning more than ever before there is often nothing left when all the bills are paid... sometimes before the bills are paid. The only real relief is careful planning. Don't spend money you don't have to spend. Start a savings account and make it a Number One Priority. Add something to your savings each payday. Concentrate on spending less. Before you write that next check or spend that next dollar, ask yourself one question: "Can I do without this?" You'll surprise yourself at how often your answer will be "yes."

Victorian ball plans creating bustle of activities

On Dec. 17, 1885, prominent St. Louisans danced the night away at an elegant Bal Militaire held in the old Pickwick Theater. That event, described by the press as "a gathering comfortably large and fine socially," will be re-created this year on Dec. 7 in the rotunda of St. Louis City Hall.

An historically accurate, fully costumed Victorian Bal Militaire is being presented by the Epilepsy Federation of Greater St. Louis. It will be an authentic replica of the 1885 event, based on research and cooperation with Historical Society authorities.

Music, food, decorations and dances of the Victorian era will be featured at the ball and guests are being encouraged to wear Victorian costumes.

"Tiny waists and big bustles were the order of the day at the 1885 ball," said Darla Templeton, executive director of the Epilepsy Federation. "To help our guests develop their own light-hearted approach to the ball, we will send a booklet of costume information with each ticket order."

For those guests who wish to be particularly graceful during the dancing, noted St. Louis dance instructor Kenneth Lissant will provide pre-ball lessons on the delicate steps of the Quadrill, the Rye Waltz and the Sir Rodger de Coverley. Every effort is being made to create an elegant Victorian evening, according to Templeton. "Everything from our invitations and dance cards to our candlelight supper has been closely modeled after the charity balls held during the 1880s. The City Hall rotunda will be beautifully decorated, making the whole event a real holiday treat."

The annual Lafayette Square Christmas house tour will be held in conjunction with the ball; proceeds will benefit the Epilepsy Federation and the Lafayette Square Restoration Committee.

To obtain tickets or more information, the Epilepsy Federation can be called at 1-314-645-6969.

Benefit dance at Spanky's

A 6th annual benefit dance for the American Cancer Society will be held Wednesday, Nov. 27. This dance was formerly held at St. Clair Bowl but this year will be held at Spanky's Night Club in Edwardsville.

This year's bands include the Newsboys and a reunion of Club In-digo's "Milhouse Cafe." Band members reuniting are Rocky Bennett, Brad Floer, Larry Menendez, Ricky Mueller and Denny Reynolds. Another group will be announced later.

All musicians performing that night will be donating their time to raise money to fight cancer. The dance will be from 8:30 to 2:30.

St. Louis Philharmonic Orchestra presents first concert this season

The St. Louis Philharmonic Orchestra will present the first concert of its 1985-86 season Friday, Nov. 22, at 8 p.m. at Kiel Opera House, 15th and Market streets. The event commemorates the 125th anniversary of the orchestra's first performance.

The initial concert of the Philharmonic was played on Oct. 18, 1860, under the direction of Eduard Sobolewski.

The St. Louis Daily News of Oct. 19, 1860, reported, "The Philharmonic concert last evening was a decided success. Little did we expect to hear such a good and complete performance after so short a period of the Society's existence. Altogether, the first attempt at a series of concerts was met with success and great applause, and the Society has every reason to feel much encouraged."

The Nov. 22 program will include Ralph Vaughan Williams' "Overture to The Wasps," "Symphony in C" by Georges Bizet, "New England Tryptich" by William Schuman and "The Pines of Rome" by Ottorino Respighi.

Robert Hart Baker returns for his fourth season as conductor of the Philharmonic. He is music director of the Asheville Symphony and the York Symphony as well as oboist for the Round Top Festival Chamber Players in Texas and assistant to Gian Carlo Menotti at the Spoleto Festival in Italy.

The Philharmonic's additional concert dates during the 1985-86 season are Jan. 31, March 14 and May 2, 1986. All performances are at Kiel Opera House at 8 p.m.

Entertainers plan tour of schools

GRANITE CITY — The Entertainers, students in the high school's acting program, will tour junior high schools and parochial schools Nov. 21. The Entertainers are under the direction of Gordon Mueller, speech and drama teacher at the high school.

The Entertainers will perform original skits, songs and dances at four schools: Grigsby Jr. High 8:45 a.m., Coolidge Jr. High 10:20 a.m., Senior High 11:15 a.m. and St. Elizabeth School, 1:15 p.m.

Acts performed on the tour include Old Time Rock 'n Roll, Fast Times, Bologna, Leprosy, Big Sponder, A Date, Nothing, Ghostbusters, Revenge of the Freshmen, Slumber Party, Snuggles, Class Reunion, Toga Party, K-SHS, Peanut Butter, Sorority, Prom, California Girls, Mustard and Time Warp.

Student in Mueller's Acting 2 classes are: Amy Ad, David Bassoo, Paula Brewer, Sara Caldwell, Cathy Carbaugh, Robert Conley, Anne Connolly, Beth Culler, Amy Davis, Myles Esperson, Kafen Farless, Marianne Finn, Karen Garin, Karl Goss, Jay Hahr, Bryan Harris, Ann Heintz, John Humphrey, Dan Hutchins.

Desiree Hutton, Michelle Jackson, Timothy Jackson, Ann Jarrell, Gwen Keen, Melinda Knowland, Charlene Knox, Terri Kofahl, Kara Kosyrod, Becky Kramer, Caryl Kubelka, Karen Kulesza, Alyssa Line.

VETERAN Steve Konkovich of Granite City stands in front of a display case housing a letter he wrote to Union Station concerning his visit to the station just after World War II, in 1946. He got a gold-plated key chain for the letter.

State seeking groups to run business incubators

The Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) is accepting applications from parties interested in operating incubators under the Build Illinois small business incubator program (SBIP).

"A total of $1 million in Build Illinois funds is available to help finance small business incubators which will further strengthen the state's economy. Small firms often find it difficult to get started, and incubators are a great way to shelter these businesses until they can operate on their own," said DCCA Director Michael T. Woelfler.

"SBIP will provide loans on a competitive basis to any local governmental unit, not-for-profit economic development organization, educational agency or a combination of these groups."

AN INCUBATOR is a facility that provides a favorable environment for new, start-up businesses. Small business incubators allow several small firms to operate under the same roof.

Incubators typically provide space for the business at below-market rates; centralized support services, such as receptionists, secretaries and telephone answering services, etc.; and on-site business assistance.

DCCA can fund up to 50 percent of the cost of a local incubator project for building and land acquisition, equipment and furnishings and limited operating and personnel costs for managing the facility. It might be a refurbished one-time factory or a newly constructed building. DCCA is authorized to waive the loan repayment under certain circumstances.

THERE ARE SEVERAL state-supported small business incubators operating across the state. They are in Monmouth, Galesburg, Macomb, Kankakee, Rockford and Joliet. Funding is through federal discretionary grants secured by DCCA.

"The first step for the interested community is to submit a market feasibility analysis of the proposed incubator to DCCA. It should include documented community support for the project, potential services for small business tenants and a proposed building site. Communities that demonstrate the greatest potential will be encouraged to submit a full application for funding consideration," said Woelfler.

Communities must submit their market analysis before Jan. 9, 1986, according to DCCA Marketing Division officials in Springfield (1-217-782-3891) and Marion (1-618-997-4371).

Medal of Valor ceremony scheduled on Nov. 21

James K. "Chips" Stewart, director of the National Institute of Justice in Washington, D.C., will be the featured speaker at the 17th annual Medal of Valor awards ceremony Thursday, Nov. 21, at the Marriott Pavilion Hotel.

The Medal of Valor program, co-sponsored by the Advertising Club of Greater St. Louis and the St. Louis Crusade Against Crime, begins at noon in the Marriott's main ballroom. Tickets, $15 per person or $120 for a table of eight, are available from the Ad Club, 231-4185, or the Crusade, 533-3002. Tickets also will be available at the door on the day of program.

The Medal of Valor is presented annually to metropolitan area police officers for conspicuous acts of bravery that exceeded normal demands of public service and to selected civilians who made special efforts in fighting crime.

Nominations for the award are made by police chiefs; 115 Medals of Valor have been awarded since the program began in 1969.

Stewart was appointed director of the National Institute of Justice, the Justice Department's principal research agency, by President Ronald Reagan in 1982. Prior to the appointment, he served as special assistant to former Attorney General William French Smith. Before going to Washington, he was a police officer in Oakland, Calif., for 15 years.

Jazz Influence opens music series

The Jazz Influence, featuring works by contemporary composers performed by members of the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, is the first concert in the Symphony's 1985-86 Chamber Music Series. The concert is set for 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 25, at Powell Symphony Hall, 718 N. Grand at Grand Center, St. Louis.

Chamber Music St. Louis-On Stage, a series devoted to recent works for small ensembles by contemporary American composers, is sponsored by the Symphony Society and organized by the symphony and St. Louis Symphony composer-in-residence Joan Tower, who serves as artistic advisor. The audience and performers are seated on the concert stage at Powell Hall for these events.

Composers whose works will be featured on this program include Aaron Copland, Libby Larsen, Gary Smart, David Stock, Noel DaCosta, William Albright and Gunther Schuller.

General admission tickets are $5 each. Students with a valid ID can purchase up to two tickets for $3.50 each. Persons may phone 1-314-534-1700 for information.

Summerstage presents 'Cinderella' — with a modern twist

The well-known classic, "Cinderella," will be presented by Granite City Summerstage on Nov. 23 and 24 at the Star Theater. Both performances will be at 2 p.m. and tickets are $1 for both children and adults.

Coloring sheets have been distributed to day care centers and to the kindergarten to 4th grades in the public and parochial schools.

During intermission, two of these coloring sheets will be chosen and prizes will be awarded to one girl and one boy; 5th and 6th graders also are eligible. Flyers may be obtained from the Star Theater with a ticket purchase.

After the performance there will be an autograph session with the cast; at this session, candy will be distributed. The cast will also be available to pose for pictures with any children having a camera available.

"Cinderella" opens with Harold the rabbit (John Manoogian) finding himself in the wrong story; he mistook Cinderella for Alice in Wonderland.

The Fairy Godmother (Beverly Scroggins) informs him of his mistake and, instead of reporting him to the Wizard of Oz, she insists that he stay and help her to introduce the prince (Michael Moore) and Cinderella (Beth Fennell).

Ann Scott, as the wicked stepmother, along with Laura Antoff and Diane Wingeter, who play the stepsisters, try to foil their plan. But as the fairy tale goes, they lived happily ever after.

The show is directed and choreographed by Lisa Garcia Fensterman, assisted by Brenda Whitaker, assistant director; Judy McNeilly, stage manager; Roger Mefford, musical director; Julie Barnes, assistant choreographer; Bill Tindall, Cindy Wood and Martha Pickett, set design and construction; Karen Tucker and Joann Tindall, costumes; Dan McGee, makeup; and Mary Lerch, publicity and tickets.

Tickets are now being sold at the Star Theater and by Lisa Fensterman, 876-7160, for the stage play.

County JFK dinner here Saturday; Illinois Attorney General Hartigan to talk

BULLETIN

It was confirmed today that Adlai Stevenson will attend Saturday's Madison County Democratic dinner in Granite City. He is expected to be slated by the State Democratic Central Committee for nomination as governor.

The annual John F. Kennedy Memorial champagne dinner dance of Madison County Democrats will be held Saturday, Nov. 16, at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 4225 Old Alton Road, Granite City, with cocktails at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7 p.m.

Principal speaker will be Neil F. Hartigan, the 38th Illinois attorney general. In this capacity, he serves as the state's chief legal officer and attorney for the people of Illinois.

HARTIGAN ANNOUNCED Nov. 11 he will seek re-election instead of seeking the nomination for governor.

Tickets are $35 per person. Checks may be mailed to P.O. Box 51, Edwardsville, Ill. 62025. It was announced.

Many public officials are expected to be present. The yearly JFK dinner dance is sponsored by the Madison County Democratic Committee. For more information, area residents may telephone Dinner Chairman Robert C. Stille at 656-7289 or Sam W. Wolf at 677-2345.

THE DEMOCRATIC Committee's executive committee is led by Mac Warfield, chairman, William Bekowski and Robert Stille, vice chairmen, and State Rep. Sam W. Wolf, secretary and treasurer.

Elected in November 1982, Hartigan took office as attorney general on Jan. 10, 1983. He is chairman of the Midwest Association of Attorneys General.

Hartigan, 47, brought to the attorney general's office experience in both public service and the private sector. From 1976 to 1982, he was senior vice president of the First National Bank of Chicago, responsible for international banking in the western hemisphere.

AS LIEUTENANT governor of Illinois from 1972 to 1976, Hartigan was responsible for creation in 1973 of the first state cabinet-level Department on Aging in the nation.

At 34, the youngest person in the nation to hold the post of lieutenant governor, Hartigan was elected chairman of the National Association of Lieutenant Governors.

In yet another role at the national level, he was a member of the executive committee of the Council of State Governments.

Selected by Time Magazine in the early 1970s as one of the 200 future leaders of the country, Hartigan has been an advocate, as attorney general, for the elderly, the disabled, and patients suffering abusive practices and treatment in Illinois nursing homes.

HE HAS BEEN a proponent of stricter controls on hazardous and toxic wastes in Illinois and has identified 800 sites statewide in need of cleanup.

Instrumental in the creation of the Hazardous Waste Task Force charged with identifying these sites, Hartigan also played a key role in enacting the new Criminal Damage to the Environment Act. This law strengthened existing hazardous waste statutes with increased penalties for violations.

In addition to establishing new advocacy programs for the aged and disabled, Hartigan created a statewide Victims Justice system to aid crime victims who had lacked legal representation in the criminal justice system.

HE IS A MEMBER of the board of directors of Georgetown University and serves on the visiting committee for public policy at the University of Chicago.

He holds honorary degrees from Martin Luther King College and Lincoln College.

He and his wife, Marge, have four children, John, Elizabeth, Laura and Bridget. They make their home in the Rogers Park area of Chicago, two blocks from the home in which the attorney general spent his formative years.

In the 1985 session of the General Assembly, Representative Sam Wolf successfully introduced 27 bills which were passed by the legislature and signed into law.

Wolf Bills Signed Into Law

- Public Act 84-0806 — Redefines "paramedic" to include emergency medical personnel certified by the Illinois Dept. of Public Health.
- Public Act 84-0311 — Gives the Metro-East Sanitary District Board the authority to reject bids and re-advertise for work to be done.
- Public Act 84-0272 — Strengthens statutory provisions regarding persons driving under the influence of alcohol and drugs.
- Public Act 84-0247 — Sponsored by Senator Sam Vadalabene. Authorizes the Bi-State Development Agency to institute a development project described as a world trade center.
- Public Act 84-980 — Sponsored by Senator Sam Vadalabene. Encourages non-profit organizations to offer transportation services to the handicapped.

District Office Services

Our District Office can serve you in many ways. Our office hours are from 10:00 A.M. until 3:00 P.M., Monday through Thursday. My Administrative Assistant, Pat Mushill, can handle complaints, concerns, referrals, and, of course, answer questions on what the legislature is doing.

In addition, our office has a variety of brochures and materials that can be of use to you or to members of your organizations and community groups. Materials on local and state senior citizen's programs, consumer protection services, public assistance programs, energy assistance and utilities, small business grants plus many others are available. In addition, we will be happy to come and speak to your group or plan an informational program on a particular topic.

Please call or stop by — the District Office is there to serve YOU.

Infrastructure and "Build Illinois"

Infrastructure and "Build Illinois"

One of the most talked about issues of the 1985 session was the "Build Illinois" proposal. Its original intent was to provide capital development funds in the State for infrastructure and housing projects financed through an extensive bonding program. Along the way, "Build Illinois" ran into many obstacles and was, in the end, responsible for the longest legislative session in recent memory.

The 111th Representative District received some of the benefits of "Build Illinois" including:

$500,000 for Granite City storm sewer and water line rehabilitation;

$2.3 million for dredging of the Madison County Ditch and the Cahokia Canal to alleviate flooding problems.

While "Build Illinois" was, in part, a step toward rebuilding our State's infrastructure, the program could not possibly address the major infrastructure needs in this State.

I sponsored, along with Representative Al Ronan, legislation which would establish an administrative process, known as the Infrastructure Revolving Loan Fund, for local units of government to participate in the National Infrastructure Loan program. While Congress has yet to act upon the National Infrastructure program, we felt it imperative that Illinois place pressure on the federal government to help solve what is fast becoming a national crisis. At the same time, we felt that the State should be fully prepared to implement any federal program involving infrastructure.

Unfortunately, Governor Thompson saw fit to veto this legislation and similar legislation calling for an audit of infrastructure needs throughout the State. I can assure you that the infrastructure needs of this State will remain one of my highest priorities throughout the coming year.

Citing the infrastructure needs in the 111th Representative District, Rep. Sam Wolf announces his sponsorship of the Illinois Infrastructure Revolving Loan program at a press conference in the Capitol.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE
111th DISTRICT

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Fall 1985

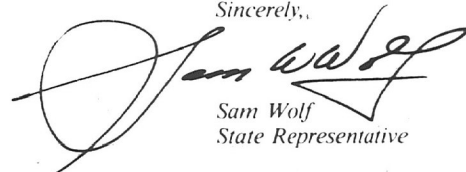

Dear 111th District Resident:

The Illinois General Assembly adjourned its regular deliberations on July 6th, six days after the deadline. As you probably remember, this additional time was needed to negotiate the final version of "Build Illinois."

Along with Build Illinois and education reform, the General Assembly considered a number of major issues. This newsletter provides a brief summary of those issues which I feel are important to both the 111th Representative District and the State of Illinois.

If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact my Legislative Office.

Sincerely,

Sam Wolf
State Representative

Education On The Move

The General Assembly enacted the most comprehensive reform plan for elementary and secondary education in the history of the State.

An unprecedented funding increase will provide 45% (instead of the current 38%) of the cost to school districts for elementary and secondary education in Illinois.

This increase provides a 10.3% increase in general State aid funding for schools in our district — or $2,146,793.61 in new dollars.

For the first time in recent memory, the State will fully fund mandated education programs. We appropriated $99 million to implement the reform measures and to provide several new programs including:

- preschool and full-day kindergarten options for school districts;

KEY EDUCATION REFORMS

- Achievement test for students
- Bar exam for new teachers
- Improved teacher education
- New teacher evaluation procedures
- Administrator's Training Program
- Waiver for PE mandate for students in physical extracurricular activities or who need college prep or remedial courses
- Annual school "report card" to parents
- Require schools to set learning objectives

- student dropout prevention and alternative education;
- teacher in-service training;
- regional teacher education centers; and
- reading improvement programs in grades kindergarten through sixth.

Beginning in 1986, a new summer school program for gifted students and those in need of remedial education will receive $15 million in new funds.

Finally, the education reform package provides transportation grants of $50 per pupil to parents of public and private school students who live at least 1.5 miles from school and do not have access to free transportation. These grants will begin in the 1985-86 school year and increase to $100 in 1986-87.

Utility Reform: a partial success

New pro-consumer utility law

A comprehensive rewrite of the Illinois Public Utility Act will give consumers a stronger voice in the setting of utility rates.

The rewrite was needed because the present Public Utility Act, which has governed utilities since 1922, was out of date and scheduled to "sunset" later this year. A special legislative committee spent two years drawing up the new law.

Among the consumer aids in SB 1021 is the Office of Public Counsel which will have authority to challenge information filed by utilities requesting rate hikes.

The bill also expands the powers of the ICC to audit utility construction and management practices to guarantee that utility companies are operating in the most efficient manner.

Although I preferred a 25% limit on excess generating capacity that could be charged to rate payers, the General Assembly chose to let the ICC decide on a case-by-case basis whether the ratepayer or the stockholders would pay for excess power plant capacity. Utilities claimed the limit would eliminate standby capacity needed when a plant has to be taken out of service for repair or rehabilitation.

Utility tax relief

Illinois utility consumers will save $225 million in taxes over the next five years under House Bill 18 which placed a cap on the state's utility tax.

The need for utility tax reform was obvious. Illinois utility consumers now pay the second highest utility tax in the United States, second only to New Jersey. Further, the utility tax is the fastest growing tax in Illinois, increasing by more than 300% over the past 12 years.

Finally, the current tax hits hardest on seniors and poor people who can least afford to pay the rising cost of utilities.

HB 18 cuts your utility tax bill by changing the tax from an ad valorem, or percentage tax, based on price — to a unit tax based on how much energy you use.

Now, instead of your tax bill going up every time your utility rates go up, your tax bill will stay the same no matter what price rate you pay for gas or electricity.

Efficiency in Government

To help improve efficiency and cut the fat out of government spending, we advanced several bills to the Governor including:

- A new centralized travel policy to combat travel waste and abuse by state employees.
- An "Employee Suggestion Award Program" to reward employees for suggestions that save money or improve efficiency.
- A centralized state advertising agency to eliminate costly and duplicate advertising by various state agencies.
- An incentive program to reward contractors who suggest cost-cutting construction proposals on state projects.

State Representative Sam Wolf was a strong advocate for utility consumers in the 1985 session. Along with the rewrite of the Public Utilities Act, the General Assembly passed legislation on low-income energy assistance and a utility tax decrease for consumers.

Energy Assistance Act To Aid Low-Income Persons

This legislation would ensure that low-income persons have heating and other utility services in the winter months without the danger of being disconnected.

The bill establishes the Energy Assistance Act that would allow qualified persons to enter into a low-income payment plan with public utility companies that provide heat and secondary heating sources.

Payment on current bills would be made from May 1 through November 30, providing that payments will not be greater than 12 percent of the person's income.

Tax Relief For Local Governments

Local units of government would enjoy up to $50 million in additional revenue under legislation now pending with the Governor.

Senate Bill 249 shifts an investment credit tax on local governments to the state. The move will offset an increasing burden on local taxpayers and will provide much needed relief for many of our hardpressed local governments and school districts.

When the investment credit was enacted in 1981, the single most important issue debated was whether to credit liability against state or local revenue. The outcome of that debate eliminated a revenue source for some 6,800 local taxing districts.

In recent years, our local governments have been forced to absorb more and more expenses as the state gradually shifts the costs of programs and services to the local level. Federal Budget cuts in revenue sharing and local grant programs have further intensified their financial plight. Senate Bill 249 acts to reverse the earlier decision and could boost our local government coffers by $45-50 million.

New Laws Provide Child Protection

In response to the increasing number of incidents involving missing children and child abuse, the General Assembly passed a package of laws to help combat child abduction and abuse from a preventative standpoint.

By enacting preventative measures and streamlining law enforcement procedures, we hope to increase our efforts in reporting and recovering missing children.

One program will instruct grade school children on how to avoid being kidnapped and requires schools to adopt an "Attendance Hot Line" to notify parents when their children fail to show up for school.

We also approved laws to require criminal background checks of day care employees to eliminate anyone with a history of violent crimes, child abuse or sex-related crimes.

The General Assembly also sent legislation to the Governor which would permit videotaping a child's testimony in sex abuse trials. The intent is to save the child from the trauma of disclosing intimate details of a sexual assault in a courtroom setting and to increase the chances of successfully prosecuting child molesters.

Finally, a bill was passed making it a felony (similar to attempted kidnapping) to "lure" a child into a car, one of the most common means of kidnapping children.

Disabled Package Approved

An 11 bill package containing numerous provisions to help disabled persons in the State was approved by the General Assembly. The bills increase educational, housing, job and transportation opportunities for the disabled.

The package also establishes a plan to develop services for disabled persons over 21 years of age whose service needs can no longer be met through current special education programs.

In addition, the legislation calls for the installation and maintenance of telecommunication devices for the deaf at certain major public transportation sites and allows the acquisition, repair and replacement of orthotic and prosthetic devices without repeated prescriptions.

The General Assembly brought Illinois law into compliance with the Federal Voting Rights Act and the Voting Accessibility for the Elderly and Handicapped Act. In addition to increasing polling place accessibility, the legislation would eliminate the requirement that a voter seeking an absentee ballot due to temporary physical incapacity provide an affidavit from their medical practitioner.

While serving on six committees, Representative Sam Wolf was active on several economic development issues including enterprise zones, expansion of port district facilities, small business programs and the development of a world trade center authority in the Metro-East area.

Wolf Successfully Funds Office of Appraisals

Legislation, sponsored by Representative Sam Wolf, was approved this year to fund an Office of Appraisals within the Department of Revenue.

Although such a department, established to assist local tax assessors with commercial and industrial assessment problems, has been on the books for a number of years, the Office itself was never funded.

This year a specific appropriation was included in the regular Department of Revenue budget. This appropriation will allow expert real estate tax assessors to be hired under the Office of Appraisal and to serve as consultants to local tax assessors when a local assessment protest has been filed.

In Madison and Lake Counties, similar situations have occurred when a large commercial enterprise has appealed a property tax assessment using a battery of out-of-state tax attorneys. With the Office of Appraisal's expertise, local units of government will be in a better position to protect their interests.

Alzheimer's Assistance

A legislative package to enhance the treatment, research and counseling of Alzheimer's victims is now signed into law.

More than 111,000 Illinoisans suffer from this brain disorder which results in memory loss and physical incapacity.

The package sets up a network of special hospitals to treat Alzheimer's victims, establishes a program of nursing home and day care centers with specialized treatment facilities, initiates an exchange program for doctors who treat Alzheimer's patients, provides bonus payments to nursing homes for outstanding care, and changes public assistance regulations for Alzheimer's victims.

Alzheimer's attacks both the victim and their families who must devote a substantial effort and cost to care for their loved ones. These innovative proposals will dramatically improve the care and treatment of Alzheimer's victims and will help alleviate the financial hardship on their families.
